

Jesus said to His disciples: "Have not I chosen you twelve, and one of you is a devil?" (John 6:70)

Did Jesus literally mean this, or was it just a figure of speech? A possible answer to this question opens the door to a world of hidden mysteries.

A Behind-the-scene look at Judas Iscariot's fate.

The demonic episodes mentioned are not found in Scripture, but mysteriously came to mind as this section was being written.

...Little did Judas fully understand (and at that time, all Jews, including John the Baptist [Luke 7:18-24] and the other disciples) what Jesus really came to do on the earth. Old Testament Scripture showed (and provided many verses) where He would come as a conquering king. This was what Judas and everyone else thought. But as we read the New Testament (which was then not yet available), we discovered that He indeed came to conquer. But, first and foremost, He came to conquer sin, then death; afterward, His enemies, all of them before reigning as a conquering King of the earth. He came to die first, then to shed His blood for the remission of sins: to pay our sin debt. Afterward, to conquer death by dying and rising from the dead...

The Content Scope:

Imagine witnessing Judas standing before the ONE whom he betrayed to be judged.

Why did Judas do what he did to Jesus?

Judas' earlier years and how he became one of Jesus' disciples?

Judas' terrifying encounter and battle with a powerful demon called, Suicide.

How did Judas' bowels (small and large intestines, etc.) "gushed out" (or burst out) of his body? (Acts 1:18)

A frozen-in-time picture display of Jesus' suffering appearance is provided for you TODAY: A catastrophically intense horror and terror scene.

Scriptural evidence to prove Jesus was unrecognizable after His resurrection due to serious facial damage (scars) from the scourging or beating. (Isaiah 52:14-15)

Israel's failing economy that was caused by all the miracles Jesus was doing.

The irony of Judas being among the twelve.

The secret meeting of the chief priests, elders, and leaders of the people.

What later happened to Lazarus, whom Jesus raised from the dead?

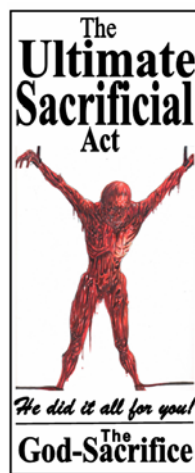

Imagine hearing this from GOD!

"The Universe is Mine! I created it! I AM The Most High! I AM The self Sufficient One! I AM The Self-Sustaining One! I AM All-Powerful and need nothing to sustain My Powers! I AM Order! I AM The Word! I AM The Creator! I AM, GOD!!!" ...His voice roared... violently shaking...the entire universe...God...said, "Who lied to you and told you that you could attain God status?" He quickly raised His hand, pointing His finger at the Lake of Fire and said: "Then go to him, thou fool! Let him advise you there."

Excerpt: "...I knew the power, strength, and pull sin had on your life and, therefore, suffered, bled, and died to pay your sin debt. This includes ALL sinful (or evil) acts committed by the whole world. In other words, everyone, with no exceptions! As a result, the whole world goes sin-FREE: ALL those on earth who wanted this freedom. You originally wanted your own way and not My way. So therefore, for you to have received this freedom arrangement (The Pardon Agreement) release from the shackles of sin (ALL of your sinful acts from start to finish) and its penalty, you had to request and accept it for yourself. You had to request and accept it from Me to have it work for you. Yes! I allowed all sinners and their evil acts, including yours, to go sin-FREE. I forgave everyone with no eternal penalties. However, it too would NOT be just, nor would it be fair to give someone something they don't truly want. (Matt. 7:9-11, Luke 11:11-13) For this reason, you had to ask for it if you truly wanted it. You had to seek for it to truly find it. You had to request it from Me to have it work for you. (Matt. 7:7, Luke 11:9-10) How else then could a lawfully just, rightfully faithful, and absolutely blameless person (with a righteously perfect balance), fix your problem if you truly didn't want it to be fixed?"

Judas' Eternity (Future) Journey Begins - INTRODUCTION -

“...and death and hell delivered up the dead which were in them: and they were judged every man according to their works.” (Revelation 20:13)

...Judas Iscariot burst through a very stink-odor-filled cloud, fuming from his mouth and screaming at the top of his voice. Not only was he screaming, but he was also tearing and clawing at anything he could get his hands on. His hands had contoured to the claws of an animal from the amount of grabbing he was doing, hoping that it might ease the intense pain felt in hell's dark abyss. (Hell was bottomless and completely engulfed with fire, where its occupants continued falling in darkness with no hope of getting out. It was a darkness that was felt.) This caused him to become like a clawing, addictive maniac who lost his mind and posture.

Even though he somehow recognized his surroundings had changed, the screaming continued for quite awhile before gradually stopping. During all of this, there was a very stink odor that filled the atmosphere where we all were. (There was no breathing with our spiritual bodies, nevertheless, our noses smelt the stinking odor.) The stench was so stink and strong that there was an appalling sensation in our nostrils. This odor was coming from Judas, who now lay flat on a pavement that was specifically created for him, as he was there weeping bitterly. When he saw God's (Jesus') face, and the serious scars (or bodily damage) he had caused, he was exceedingly shamefaced and afraid. This was the first time he had seen Jesus, whom he had betrayed since his suicidal death, the day He was crucified.

It was long before Judas stopped and began focusing on what was before him. He started crying again in horror when he saw the black inferno located at God's upper left: the black, fiery world called, The Lake of Fire, which brought to his remembrance everything he had done. He clearly remembered this scene, when the rebellious angels (of which he was a part of), wanted to destroy and takedown God.

Judas took a considerable amount of time before composing himself and began begging, pleading, and crying to God for mercy. However, God was silent! His red, fiery eyes just stared intensely at Judas without a sound. He just stared and stared and stared! During the staring, Judas cried and cried, begging for mercy, but not a word came from God. Not even a sound! God's fearsome, fiery-red eyes continued to stare at Judas. Every one present looked at God and marveled at the mysterious staring and the dreadful silence. But God continued for some time, just silently and dangerously staring at Judas.

There was a frightening angry look on His face, along with His extremely bright red, fiery eyes (like a type of laser beam) that caused everyone to become tensed and on edge for something presumably to explode or be on the brink of happening. Judas practically emptied himself of all tears. It was to the extent that he almost couldn't cry anymore. However, with a look of regret at this point, he began asking God to say something, but to no avail, God remained dangerously silent.

As Judas continued to beg Him to speak, God just sat there on His throne, staring intensely at him. Alarmingly, God was silent, like a serious calm before a massive storm. We all began feeling an enormous, powerful force emanating from God's throne, yet He was mysteriously silent.

During the silence, as Judas continued to beg, occasionally, God would turn His head from side to side and upwards, scanning and looking at all of us who were present in the audience. When this happened, we all slowly and worshipfully bowed our heads downward as His very bright, red, fiery eyes beamed in our direction. When they passed us, we all slowly began raising our heads and looking upward at Him and Judas again. His hands at times folded, then unfolded, and lay on His throne's armrest. Sometimes, His hand held His chin, and as it returned to the armrest, He would stare at the long-stretched nail hole on it. Then, on the other, before returning both to the rest position. During all this maneuvering, He was puzzlingly silent...

Judas' judgment appearance before God continues later in this document.

1 Judas Final Hours on Earth Revealed - ONE -

For a clearer understanding of this document, "So then, why did God choose Himself to come to the earth..." along with its section called, "The Ultimate Sacrificial ACT..." found at www.apublicviewing.com, should be read as well; preferably first before reading below.

...Judas overheard Jesus speaking to the eleven disciples in the garden. Strangely, as though it was loud, clear, and directed to him saying: "Thinkest thou that I cannot now pray to my Father, and he shall presently give me more than twelve legions of angels? But how then shall the scriptures be fulfilled, that thus it must be...But all this was done, that the scriptures of the prophets might be fulfilled." (Matthew 26:53-56)

This blew Judas' mind. He began regretfully thinking: Did the Scripture somehow prophesy that I was to betray Jesus? Did He know my every move, and was He aware of what I was to do to him? Besides this, he had a good alibi to explain to Jesus and the eleven disciples later why he was "forced" to do what he did. (Additionally, Judas thought that to help set up Jesus' kingdom, He needed a "little push" too.) Then strangely, he remembered what Jesus said in John 13:18-30 and the events that occurred. This was exactly the same time Satan caused him not to pay attention and entered his body, causing him to forget. (John 13:27) Judas was a thief and a traitor, which opened a doorway for Satan to enter his body. (John 6:16, 12:4-6)

When Jesus said, "Whom seek ye?" "They answered him, Jesus of Nazareth. Jesus saith unto them, I am he." (see Exodus 3:14) "As soon then as he had said unto them, I am he..." (John 18:4-6) a sudden, powerful force knocked down all of them, including Judas. All of them (the band of soldiers, along with the captains, officers, members of the chief priests, elders [Luke 22:52], and the servant of the high priest, including Judas) fell backward, and the soldiers' weapons crashed to the ground, sliding away from them. Because Judas fell along with them, his mentally intended alibi scheme fell apart. In his mind, he sensed then that he was no longer a part of the twelve because his dirty little secret was known. He was thinking that he should not have been knocked down along with the others because the other disciples of Jesus were not knocked down; they were all standing. This caused Judas to be even more disillusioned.

"What was that?" the soldiers all said. Judas then began shaking a bit, thinking that he may have made a grave, miscalculated, mistake. He turned around and saw everyone on the ground except Jesus and the eleven disciples. Without any doubt, Judas knew what had just actually happened. He "knew" Jesus had great powers and was the Son of God. The soldiers quickly got up, and were all puzzled, not knowing what had just occurred. Because neither of them was injured, they regained their arrogant attitudes, picked up their weapons, and arrested Jesus.

Malchus, whose ear was cut off and restored (John 18:10), was in deep thought and returned with the soldiers, but at a great distance behind them.

Judas got up but was also in deep thought and just watched the scene (like it played out in slow motion) as they took Jesus by force. The other disciples scattered and disappeared into the dark night. Judas then followed the band of men at a "psychologically shattered distance" behind the soldiers and Malchus, to the high priest's residence. Hopefully, Judas thought, Jesus would fight back by seeking help from His Father or from the army of angels He mentioned earlier. This was because, previously, He had always slipped out of their hands when they tried to take or arrest Him by force. However, it was somewhat frightening because, along the way, the soldiers were not easy but very rough with handling Him. He heard the loud cursing and cruel handling in the distance.

From a distance, he began noticing something disturbingly different that he had never seen before. Jesus appeared to be groaning in pain from the rough handling. His falling to the ground with hands tied affected Judas' conscience. He began seriously regretting what he had done by accepting the bounty; all of it just to save one of his companies from failing. (What's more? It was failing because of all the miracles Jesus was doing.) Deep within his conscience, it began to become mentally painful to watch what he had caused.

According to very wealthy and powerful Jews, in just over three short years, Israel's entire financial economy eroded because of Jesus and the miracles He did. Numerous of them said, "Imagine, another three years, their entire amass of wealth would disappear." Many of them, who were physicians, undertakers (body-preparers and gravediggers), and owners of "caretaking inns" (hospitals), went out of business, and their business failures trickled down, affecting many others.

Judas began to see where his betrayal stunt was leading because Jesus would not defend or protect Himself; neither would He fight back. He thought Jesus would have gotten away as He did before (Luke 4:28-30, John 8:58-59), and he would have kept the money that was paid to him for helping to capture Him. Judas was carelessly aware that many of the leaders wanted to kill Him, but strangely overlooked this fact.

He watched and listened from the back, behind the large gathering present, to how the interrogation was going. In his mind, the worst that could happen was that these leaders would place Jesus in prison for a while, which would give him plenty of time to plan a rescue mission if Jesus did not do it Himself. Encouragingly though, as regretful thoughts raced back and forth with a possible explanation of why there was no defense, this may have also been prophesied to start Jesus' conquering mission to become King of all nations. These "foreign" thoughts brought a little comfort to his nagging conscience.

Unfortunately, to Judas' shocking surprise, the interrogation went dangerously wrong. The leaders whom he trusted wanted Him dead for no lawful or apparent reason. Their illegal proceedings were fast-tracked to the final verdict and sentencing of death. Judas was "blown away." His entire rescue mission idea fell apart, with absolutely no way of saving Him. This was not in the arrangement I made with the leaders to capture Jesus, he thought. Furthermore, it would take days to put a rescue mission together, but the execution of death was only hours away. With all the soldiers present, to try it was suicidal because, at that time, he (Judas) was alone and fearful.

The First scourging!

A small army of soldiers quickly took Jesus away to Pontius Pilate who later commanded that they take Him to the torture chamber to be scourged and brought back to try and appease the religious leaders. In Pilate's mind, a little threatening and persuasion after a serious beating usually resolves the problem and prevents further disruption among the people. This Pilate thought to himself, not knowing what barbaric beating was about to later take place.

So, they beat Jesus with many stripes. Whip marks were all over His body. They platted a crown of thorns and placed it on His head (not knowing it symbolized Exodus 28:36-38). The soldiers untied His hands and placed a scarlet robe on Him. When it got messy, with blood stains and whip marks, they replaced it with a purple robe. This robe was taken off and replaced with His own clothes when He was led to be crucified. (The purple robe hid most of the beating scars.)

They mocked Him, spat on Him, and hit Him on His head with a reed. He gave His back to the smiters, and His cheeks to them that plucked off His hair: He hid not His face from shame and spitting. (Isaiah 50:6) Several of them punched Him in His face, chest, stomach, and groin area. He fell to the ground in pain from each of these physical impacts. They stood there and laughed at Him, and then dragged Him again before Pilate. Pilate tried to convince the leaders of the people that he was going to release Him, and that the scourging was sufficient. However, he was unsuccessful. Nevertheless, he delivered Him to them to be crucified.

After the “first scourging,” Pilate gave Jesus over to the chief priests and elders of the people. Thereafter, following instructions from one of them, the soldiers moved with haste and took Him to a special section of the jailhouse that was not very far away from Pilate’s judgment hall.

WHAT?

A Second wave of beating?

(Ex. 17:6, Numbers 20:11, 1 Cor. 10:1-4)

When did this second wave of beating occur?

It is not clearly found in Scripture.

Moses’ striking of the rock twice caused Jesus (God) a second wave of beating.

What? A second wave of beating? When did this second scourging occur? It is not clearly found in Scripture! So, when did Jesus’ facial and physical form which was agonizingly, severely, and unrecognizably damaged, according to Isaiah 52:14, occur? It had to have happened before the cross. It could not have happened prior to Him reappearing before Pilate after the first scourging. This was because Pilate, would have had great pity on Him. It definitely would have resulted in Him not going to the cross. Due to how Pilate was fighting to save Him from crucifixion and death, he would have been grief-stricken if he had seen His bloodied, damaged face and body. He would have then boldly used his governor’s prevailing, authoritative, privileged position and discharged (free) Him as a result.

Pilate, no doubt, questioned within himself by saying, ‘Why crucify Him? Why not just kill Him? It is so much easier and quicker! Why cause Him to suffer before killing Him? What evil hath he done?’ (Luke 23:22) For this, he knew “that the chief priests had delivered him for envy.” (Mark 15:10) But, he was unaware of the dark side of this plot and the serious suffering that had to be administered to pay for the sins of the world.

Crucifixion is usually applied to notorious criminals to get them to talk or to punish them for the serious crime committed. But to administer crucifixion on someone with no criminal record or for something that cannot be proven was wicked. The two criminals who were convicted to be executed by crucifixion were notorious and well-known thieves. There was no criminal record or knowledge of any wrongdoing against Jesus.

Further proof of what Pilate would have done was that because of his strong willingness to release Jesus in Luke 23:1-24, he would have then ignored the threats from the religious leaders and signed a release bill to let Him go. He would have boldly ruled: It’s enough! Enough is enough! “...What I have written I have written.” (John 19:22) The governor would have shut down their malicious, crucifixion intentions if he had seen Jesus’ damaged, bloodied, miraculously still alive, torn-up, and ripped-up face and body appearance according to Isaiah 52:14. It would have been heartbreakingly too much for him (Pilate) or any of his colleagues (including his dear wife) to bear. He would have freed Him.

Let us now examine some of the components involved, to show Jesus’ body after the intense suffering from being beaten (scourged). First of all, Isaiah 52:14, 53:2 said, “...his visage was so marred more than any man, and his form more than the sons of men...he hath no form nor comeliness; and when we shall see him, there is no beauty that we should desire him.” (This simply meant that no other human could ever be living with such damaged and torn-up face and body like that of Jesus in all eternity. It was never seen before and will never be seen again with anyone else, forever.)

At Calvary, there were only nails driven in His hands and feet, and a spear into His side, which did not disfigure His face or the rest of His body. As a result, the intense beating to seriously deface and deform Him had to have occurred sometime just after His arrest and before He went to the cross.

The Bible vaguely used the word “scourged” in Matt. 20:19, 27:26, Mark 10:34, 15:15, Luke 18:33, and John 19:1, but very modestly and intentionally did not provide any details of what actually took place. If Jesus was so heavily disfigured, then the soldiers had to have sickeningly beaten him mercilessly. Visage refers to His facial appearance, countenance, or proportion of facial features. His form refers to the rest of His human body (His natural body shape and looks). To be marred means to injure, damage, disfigure, etc. Both face and body were heavily marred more than any human: past, present, and future. Isaiah was very clear on the status of his appearance after the slaughter (scourging). We can, therefore, comprehend this by looking at several verses written after His resurrection later in the following section called, “Jesus was unrecognizable.”

For more information on Jesus’ beating episode, read below. Also, read the section called, “The Ultimate Sacrificial Act...” found in the document called, “So then, why did God choose Himself to come to the earth as a human...” and the document called: “What’s wrong with this picture?” All are found at: www.apublicviewing.com.

...his visage [face] was so marred [damaged] more than any man, and his form [body shape] more than the sons of men...the kings [leaders, scholars, preachers, teachers, etc.] shall shut their mouths at him:

for that which had not been told them shall they see; and that which they had not heard shall they consider.

(Isaiah 52:14-15 – Dictionary emphasis added)

WHY NO BROKEN BONES?

Certainly, the elements (or rules) of perfection for a sinless person did not allow any bones to be broken. This was not an “element of perfection” component included in the sacrifice that was set aside. Additionally, it was not that Lucifer and his warlords avoided trying to break his bones with all the force inflicted. His bones just would not break. They could not be broken. They only came out of joint. (Ex. 12:46, Nu. 9:12, Psalm 34:20, John 19:36) However though, the impacts from the beating were far beyond the capacity to maintain unbroken bones, which was why they just came out of joint. (Ps. 22:14) Naturally, all His bones should have been broken during the course of the intense beating.

On another note, when the Scripture say that they will “put him to death” (Luke 18:33), meaning they will “condemn Him to death” by executing the death sentence. It was only when Jesus gave up the ghost, that was when He died, and not before and not by man.

For more information, read about the elements or “rules of perfection” that were set aside in the section called, “The Ultimate Sacrificial Act...” found in the document called, “So then, why did God choose Himself to come to the earth as a human...” Get it at: www.apublicviewing.com.

Judas’ final hours continue...

The beginning of the day was already too long with lots of back-and-forth movement: to the high priest's residence, then at the leaders of the people's judgment hall, to Pontius Pilate, to Herod (who was in Jerusalem at the time), and back to Pilate again, all rather quickly. Judas had absolutely no sleep from the previous night. He was under lots of fatigue, depression, stress, and a nagging, regretting conscience on his involvement, which caused all of this drama. He painfully regretted it and wished he could reverse what he had done hours earlier. Nevertheless, his conscience kept echoing, "It's too late, fool!"

He wanted desperately to get a glimpse of what they were really doing to Jesus after Pilate released Him to the chief priests and elders of the people. Therefore, he made his way to where they took Him again. Upon his arrival at the area where Jesus was, the soldiers guarding the hallway entrance to the torture chambers recognized Judas as he approached them, hoping he would be allowed in. "We finally got that deceiver and are giving Him His due kingdom rewards. He is truly a king; a king of crying." They all started laughing.

Judas was emotionless and just asked to see what was going on, or just to peep on the progress of the situation. The soldiers knew he had gotten a large pay-out to help them capture Jesus, and therefore, in their minds, seeing Him suffer should be a part of the reward package. There was no harm in seeing "the purchased merchandise." In the soldiers' minds, were it not for him, they would not have been able to capture Jesus. Therefore, they considered it no harm to let him in. Besides this, the soldiers who were administering the punishment would understand. They were all part of the team of armed men who arrested Jesus.

So, they let Judas in and said, "He is in the room at the end of this pathway." Judas quickly walked down a long hallway with several turns and jail cells on both sides of the pathway. The torture chamber was at the end of the hallway, with a heavy door facing the hallway path. As he approached the room, he surprisingly noticed blood dripping from underneath the door. It came through the small gap between the door and the floor that was not completely sealed by the soldiers, who were using several pieces of cloth. He had never heard Jesus scream out in pain and, therefore, did not recognize the voice beyond the door that was crying out in terror. Maybe it was someone else hollering because Jesus never did anything to deserve the punishment that caused such a great 'scream of terror,' Judas thought.

He hesitated somewhat to open the door, but finally, he took a deep breath and did it. When he opened it, blood poured out like a waterfall, completely covering Judas' sandals. A thick, bloody, fleshy object also came out and stationed itself on them. He was stunned as he looked down at his sandals. All of this caused him to shout out loud, saying, "Ahhhh!" which got the attention of all the executioners. (See Lev. 4:7, 18: "*...and shall pour all the blood of the bullock at the bottom of the altar of the burnt offering, which is at the door of the tabernacle...")

At this time, Lucifer was beating Jesus mercilessly and mightily using one of the executioner's body whom he had possessed. Jesus' entire body faced the torture chamber door with His head forward but hanging downward. When the door swung open, Lucifer had just whipped Jesus, and He hollered out.

When Judas raised his head from looking downwards and saw Jesus' body completely covered with blood and His mouth wide open, crying out in "terror," he froze. (He saw an entire bloody mess with wide and deep wounds, so deep His bones were exposed from the strike that was just administered.) Quickly, looking at the bloody facial damage and Jesus' bloodied body, he almost collapsed. (His body was close to the door, and at that moment, it appeared as though Jesus lifted His head somewhat and stared at Judas, but with His eyes closed tight, screaming out in pain.) Judas, somehow then, consciously knowing He was Jesus, raised his hand towards Him, painfully horrified, cried, and screamed out loud that echoed saying, "Oh God, Noooo!"

Like the “click, click” sound of a camera, the frozen-in-time picture scene occurred here! Lucifer and his warlords did not know their nasty scheme was to be exposed in an awkwardly weird, and very unusual way centuries later. Judas’ eyes on what he saw, represented the eyes of the world and what it NOW sees and knows of Lucifer’s dirty little secret. The world can now get a glimpse of what went on behind closed doors, in the ugly torture chamber of what Lucifer covered up for centuries. (Mark 4:22, Luke 8:17)

The fraction of seconds witnessing the barbaric beating, he saw when the whip came across Jesus’ face and then across the lower rib cage area, causing flesh and muscle tissues to rip out of place, hanging open, and leaving deep wounds moments before blood began pouring out and covering the area...

A Public Viewing of Jesus’ Damaged Body from the Beating Just Before Crucifixion?

This moment in time scene was frozen (in the past, for the future) to an exhibition presentation so that we all can walk into the torture chamber room and get a close-up glimpse of what Jesus Christ looked like during His intense beating. However, you must be warned; discretion is advised. Because of the intense beating (ripping and tearing of flesh over His entire body), Jesus is completely naked.

A sign at the entrance of the exhibition reminded viewers of what Jesus said at John 10:17-18: Jesus could not die at the hands of man. It was only when He allowed (commend or gave up) His Spirit to leave His body was when His body died; otherwise, man could not kill Him by any injuries inflicted. (Luke 23:46) Therefore, He had to remain alive in this torture chamber and endure the slaughter that was in progress so that the amount of punishment and blood loss, along with the suffering of crucifixion, was sufficient and accepted to pay off the world’s sin debt.

As a result, His body functions unbelievably, could not stop or be disabled. All internal organs continue to work perfectly, including all the pain that was felt. There was no numbness anywhere on Him, and so He bore the full brunt of all the pain and suffering. His body kept miraculously producing blood as fast as it was losing it. This was because His body needed this blood to keep itself alive. (Leviticus 17:11, 14) When the blood was pouring out of His veins like water, it kept miraculously producing more and more, as quickly as it was pouring out. (Psalm 22:14, 17, Deut. 12:16, 24) Since His bones were visible, there were lots and lots of bleeding. His body was overworking its capacity, but it had to stay in line with the rule of Romans 6:23. It could not die because it was free from sin.

Now, as we enter the exhibition to view the body, the first thing that greets us is the strong odor of raw flesh and blood.

Walking around this painfully heartbreaking exhibit of Jesus, we recognized that it would have been impossible for a mere man to endure such suffering and agony. To be alive and endure this, he would have had to be more than a mortal man. He would have had to be God! Only God could have endured this catastrophically intense horror and terror scene. Only He (His love) could have borne this unbearable assignment. Now, we fully comprehend why Jesus was in such great agony and requested from His Father whether this unbearable assignment could be altered. (“...his visage was so marred more than any man, and his form more than the sons of men...” [Isaiah 52:14; also, Isaiah 53:1-12]) According to the dictionary definition, ‘visage’ means face, and ‘marred’ means damaged.

To illustrate and somewhat properly describe what we are all looking at (Jesus’ bleeding and bloody scene) is to visualize thick, chunky human blood that is poured over this body and covering it. For a full imagery to completely comprehend the scene, is to be present. Words cannot truly describe this horrific exhibit. Blood continued to pour to the ground, spreading around, creating a small, three-inches-deep pool covering the feet of all those who stood nearby, according to a posted note: ‘...For this exhibit, the blood is contained and only surrounds Jesus’ body.’

When the barbwire whip tore and ripped through His body, bits and pieces of flesh, muscle, and fatty tissue mingled together and hung out of the wound. For a few seconds (as stated on the sign nearby), there were yellow, orange, and white colors along with visible bones seen in the wound. (Psalm 22:17) Then, a few seconds later, everything is covered with blood from the bleeding. The metal spikes repeatedly scrapped on the bones many times as they struck the same spot again and again. This was unbearably and brutally painful to Jesus.

As we look closely, His hands were tied approximately forty-eight inches apart above His head, high enough for Him to stand flat on both feet. His feet were tied about eighteen inches apart to avoid bringing them together. They were moveable, but only in an outer direction. His head was tilted forward as though He was staring at the ground below Him. However, in this exhibition, Jesus’ entire body hangs from the two ropes tied around both wrists that support His weight. It is obvious from the painful scene that he had no energy to stand on either foot. Therefore, His knees and entire midsection were slightly bent forward.

His entire head and body are covered with thick, chunky blood (blood mingled with small bits of flesh, muscle, and fatty tissues) that was continuously pouring from all areas of his frame. The blood just continued to pour out of the deep wounds created from the beating. His face was unrecognizable because of the blood that was pouring down and dripping from His chin in a slimy-looking way. It was mixed with lots of saliva from crying.

No skin surface area was spared. All was covered with blood. (Elihu, prophesied this in Job 33:21: “...His flesh is consumed away, that it cannot be seen; and his bones that were not seen stick out.” [Read Job 33:18-22 and Romans 4:7.] We now fully comprehend that His righteous blood covered or clothed our body of sins.)

It was obvious that He took a serious facial beating. Both ears seem to be missing because there was no form or shape of ears visible on the bloody surface on both sides of His head. The eyes were shut tight to prevent blood from getting into them. The bloody ripping and tearing seen across the eyelids are so bad that it appears as though the eyeballs behind the skin may both be seriously damaged. His nose area appears to be split in half, as seen from the bloody form and shape on the surface. Half of it was missing, yet the nose bone shape seemed to be intact. Part of the skin on the left side of His face looked as though it was flayed (Lev. 1:6, 2 Chro. 29:34), it hangs open, down His face. The shape of His skull bone was visible behind the blood.

The mouth was very notably wider than normal, because it stretched all the way to the back of His jaws on the right side of His face. His front and right-side teeth were all visible because the lip area was ripped up. The exhibition notes on the wall stated how this mouth-ripped scene happened:

Jesus made loud outbursts each time pain from the whip was felt. Lucifer (using his victim’s voice because he had possessed one of the executioner’s body) shouted out loud and said, “Shut...Up!” When he said “SHUT,” he drew back the whip behind him and with all his might swung it forward for a facial strike. The whip struck Jesus’ head, wrapping itself around the back of the head with all the sharp spikes digging their way into the bloody flesh area. The end part of the whip pierced and stationed itself into and around the end of the right side of Jesus’ mouth, gripping the skin. When he said, “UP,” Lucifer pulled hard on the whip, ripping and tearing flesh as the whip returned to him. Jesus screamed out in agony; muscle spasms shot through His legs and caused them to do stationary running for a brief moment. This caused the executioners to begin laughing out loud because of how funny it looked. Sadly though, this whip strike ripped the right side of His mouth open, all the way to the end of Jesus' back jaw. His mouth was now seriously disfigured and spouting more blood. Lucifer tried to repeat and duplicate this combination strike to recreate the same effect (practically destroying the lip area), but failed each time.

As you examine His mouth, the lips that help to cover the teeth area are all ripped up from the facial beating. His front and side teeth are clearly visible but coated with blood. Both upper and lower groups cling together when the whip strikes His weak body. A sign on the wall says: His mouth opened wide just before another strike so that He could breathe. It was the only area on His body that appeared as a large hole used for serious breathing and loud bursts of screaming. Blood seems to have been pouring into it when inhaling (choking Him at times) to breathe and supply enough oxygen for the next loud outburst.

Behind the blood, as stated on a sign nearby, parts of His face, neck, shoulders, hands (from the fingers to the shoulders), chest, stomach, back, hips, and legs that were not seriously torn open, were ripped up and looked like a large body of grater blades or an entire "garden" of small ruffles mingled with lots of blood. Fleshy, bloody ruffle or grater blade scene was all over Jesus' body. No area was spared. His entire body was torn up. Jesus' fingers were all stretched out straight like claws from the pain that was felt.

As you examine His left side, just above His lower rib cage, you will notice a gruesome, butchery scene. On this exhibit, it is presently the only area on His body that has no blood. This is simply because of this frozen exhibition one second after Lucifer's whip struck the area. This is so that you can see and imagine the horror scene that lies behind the bleeding all over His body. As you look inside the wound, the yellow, orange, and white colors are his flesh, fat, and muscle tissues. Those white things running horizontally are His rib cage bones that are visible. (Psalm 22:17, 34:20) When this frozen moment restores to the actual event, blood will begin to cover the area. Even though He should have naturally been dead long before the beating ended, all of this happened prior to Him going to Calvary (Golgotha).

As we examine His lower body, we terrifyingly notice something seriously missing: His penis and testicle are no longer there (just four veins hanging and dripping blood). They were ripped off during the intense beating. (They were believed to be washed away and fell on Judas' sandals the moment he opened the "door" to the torture chamber. He did this to get a glimpse of what they were really doing to Jesus, as the wall sign stated. [Lev. 4:7, 18] For more on this, read the section called: "Judas Final Hours on Earth Revealed," in the document called, "The Judgment of Judas Iscariot," found at: www.apublicviewing.com)

A sign above the exhibit that is not actually a part of the scene says: "Behold, this is your GOD! Look carefully and consider: I endured it to save YOU! If I had used my power and authority to stop it, I would have lost you FOREVER!"

Finally, as we prepare to leave this ugly place and step back to take one final glimpse at the disturbingly revealing exhibit, thoughts uncontrollably and tearfully crowd our minds as though they came from someone else (everyone later admitted to this) that said: This...is...God!? He did this...for...me!?

As we began to exit this awful torture and slaughtering chamber, another sign at the exit door reads: Now go into all the world and tell everyone what Lucifer did to Me. I did it and held on tight to the only way possible of saving YOU! All sins (imaginable and unimaginable) are now paid off in full. But you have to accept "The Pardon Agreement" or the "Paid In Full" bill. Take one as you exit (found at the end of this book). Read the contract contents carefully, and sign it if you seriously accept the written agreement, and follow the instructions to validate the pardon.

A brochure called, "His Visage Marred More Than Any Man: Isaiah 52:14," is handed to us as we leave the premises. It reads: Men have seemingly over decades produced (in the form of plays and movies) a light form of torturing scenes, making it out to be puzzling as to why Jesus went through such great mental agony to avoid and escape the suffering, the shame, and ultimately, death. (Luke 22:44) It is obvious that the evil one who did most of the beating was/is behind many of these “cheap” crucifixion presentations.

Now therefore, alongside of all our crucifix depiction displays (seen everywhere), let us mentally glass-box this three-inches-deep bloody scene for an exhibition view, so that the world can see and know what great suffering our God endured from the hands of Lucifer, to save all of us from the pits of Hell and the Lake of Fire.

There were many back-and-forth deletions, additions, and changes made between this writer and the artist to produce the above (free-handed, non-digital) photo presentation of what Jesus Christ looked like during the beating. However, even though the picture representation is not quite exactly what the body looked like, the above exhibition scene came close. Attempts will be made sometime later to modify and adjust bits and pieces of definition details to achieve the correct display depiction based on all the descriptions mentioned earlier.

Walking In A Three Inch Deep Pool Of Blood? The required amount of blood

The life of the flesh is in the blood.
“For the life of the flesh is in the blood...For it is the life of all flesh; the blood of it is for the life thereof...”

(Leviticus 17:11, 14) Our body of flesh is alive because of the blood that is within. If there is no blood or it pours out of the body, the body of flesh dies. The body cannot remain alive without blood.

The heart pumps blood to all areas of the body. It does this because the blood carries with it all the oxygen and food necessary to sustain the life of every cell and tissue. It feeds them. When an artery or vein is clogged or the blood stops flowing to any part of the body (like when the heart stops pumping blood: a heart attack), the entire cell or tissue in that area (or the entire body) quickly dies. Thus, to maintain the life of all body tissues and cells, blood MUST continue to freely flow to ensure they all stay alive.

What is the difference in the meaning of the words pouring out, bleeding, and dripping? Is there a difference? Psalm 22:14 described how David felt, but, prophetically, what was actually happening to Jesus during the scourging. It said, “I am poured out like water...” In other words, Jesus’ blood was pouring out like water. No other liquid in the human body (except for urine) can do this naturally. (Urination is not mentioned in Scripture during a sacrificial offering. Blood is always mentioned and is poured out of the sacrifice like water.) Compare the “pouring out like water” statement to the blood sacrifice mentioned in Deuteronomy 12:16, 24, 15:23. If Jesus’ blood poured out like water, then He was bleeding lots and lots of blood.

According to Psalm 22:17 and Job 33:21, His BONES (and not bone) were visible from the beating; therefore, the blood had to have been pouring out like a faucet. If our bones are visible, how much bleeding do you think we will be doing if there is no assistance to try and stop it?

Now, in the days leading up to and following the Passover, the sacrificial laws were somewhat similar to those days leading up to and following the Day of Atonement. This was the day the High Priest went into the Holy of Holies once per year to make atonement for the sins of all the people. However, each year, from the first day of the seventh month to the twenty-second day, there were a total of 71 bullocks, 18 rams, 170 lambs, and 32 goats sacrificed to the LORD. Their blood was poured out underneath (or at the bottom of) the altar; all of it besides, that which included the blood of regular daily sacrifices done, as instructed by Moses. (Numbers chapters 28 and 29; also, Lev. 4:7, 18) This amounts to gallons upon gallons of blood that came from all of the animals combined.

All of Jesus’ sheared blood, spouting from His veins, was this amount and more: The required amount of blood from all of the animals combined for the forgiveness of all sins mentioned in the Law of Moses. Jesus’ blood lost from all of the bleeding, fulfilled this blood amount requirement.

Even though the human body has ten to twelve pints of blood, He bled lots and lots of blood because He could not die and needed blood to keep His body of flesh (tissues and cells) alive. Thus, His body had to have been miraculously reproducing it as fast as He was losing it. The blood was important because the life of all flesh was in it. (Leviticus 17:11, 14) “And almost all things are by the law purged with blood; and without shedding of blood is no remission.” (Hebrews 9:22) The elements that brought about forgiveness of sins were not flesh; neither killing innocent animals. It was the blood (1 John 1:7) and the amount that was poured out from the sacrifice or combined animal sacrifices mentioned above. (Yes! Killing an innocent animal or person was also necessary, but the primary focus here is blood.) If only blood was required (not the amount of it), then one animal would have been sufficient. According to Scripture, lots of blood was required for the remission (or the forgiveness) of ALL sins.

If the argument: A little bit of blood was sufficient because of who Jesus was (the Holy One of God), then this argument must also be applied (stand or hold-up) to His suffering. His death would have been sufficient, and not suffering by scourging and crucifixion. Nevertheless, because His face and body were heavily disfigured, blood poured out of them like water, and His bones were visible and out of joint, the little bit of blood theory cannot stand, but falls apart.

Jesus Was Unrecognizable

After reading the section called, “What? A second wave of beating?” earlier, there are five places in scripture (maybe more) to prove Jesus was unrecognizable. Because He was so heavily disfigured, He was only recognizable by the following:

(a) By His voice: No one else called Mary the way Jesus did. When He said, “Mary” she immediately recognized that voice. “...when...she turned herself back and saw Jesus standing, and knew not that it was Jesus...Jesus saith unto her, Mary. She turned herself, and saith unto him, Rabboni; which is to say, Master.” (John 20:14-16)

(b) By appearing in their midst when all the doors were locked: Because of their fear of the Jews, the disciples locked all the doors (locked themselves up), and everyone knew all those who were present. Suddenly, from nowhere and in the midst of them, Jesus appeared and said, “Peace be unto you!” The disciples, no doubt, almost wet their clothes and jumped out of their skins, so to speak, because of the sudden appearance. Even though this was sufficient evidence that He was alive, to further prove Himself, He quickly showed them his hands and side where He was pierced. After they saw these wounds, “...Then were the disciples glad...” Notice the word, “then” in John 20:19.

(c) By showing His hands and side (John 20:19-20): Thomas, not recognizing Him had to hold His hands and examine them. He also thrust his finger into Jesus' side before he was convinced He was Jesus. (John 20:27)

(d) by performing a miracle: (John 21:4-7 and John 21:12 said, “...none of the disciples durst ask him, Who art thou?” Knowing that it was the Lord.) Because of the miracle just performed, one that was only performed by Jesus, which He had done before, none of them were bold enough to ask Him, “Who art thou?” They were convinced by this miracle that He had to have been Jesus because the very same miracle was performed by Him before. Thus, the statement in the text said, “...knowing that it was the Lord.” This simply meant that it had to have been Jesus because no one else could perform such a miracle.

(e) By mannerism, unique gesture, body language, and habits (Luke 24:13-29, 30-31): Because they did not recognize Him on the road to Emmaus by His appearance, and because Jesus hid His mannerism, uniqueness, and disguised His voice, they did not recognize Him until He did what He did in verse 30: “...he took bread, and blessed it, and brake, and gave to them.” They immediately recognized this gesture. They had seen it before. The Bible used the statement, “their eyes were opened,” meaning, their hearts, minds, and understanding were open and not the actual eyes because they were always open as they traveled. They then recognized Him because (and not until) He allowed His mannerisms, unique gestures, body language, and habits to be unveiled before them. (Later, He also proved He was no ghost by showing His disciples that He was physical, like they were at Luke 24:39.)

Praise God for His awesome love and humility! He could have ended us and started something new. He was sorry for creating man. (Gen. 6:5-7) But instead, He decided to leave His glorious home, entered this sinful sewer, and extend His open, loving arms to reach out to those of us who want deliverance out from this filthy, doomed place. Which one of us would have entered our sewer or septic tank, searching for a penny that fell to the bottom of this awfully stink and filthy pit, filled over our heads with feces, scavenger insects (like cockroaches), and eating bacteria? Think of what GOD had to do when comparing man to this vast universe He created.

...One of the soldiers shouted out and said, "How did he get in here? Get him out of here and close that door!" They were all completely possessed by evil spirits and did not recognize Judas. (Obviously, these unclean spirits were not with the mob that arrested Jesus. They were specially picked by Lucifer from his band of fearless warlords; foolish and fearless of taking on God! They whipped Jesus mercilessly. They were very evil and not afraid of any repercussions by administering the intense punishment on Him.)

Two of them drew their swords and went toward Judas. He turned around and ran away from the room as fast as his feet could take him, slamming the door behind him. He did this, hoping that it would slow down the soldiers who started coming after him. Losing his sandals, Judas ran barefeet, thinking that if they caught him, they might kill him to avoid exposing their dirty little secret of the barbaric beating in progress.

The soldiers at the hallway entrance did not know what had happened, and so they were unprepared to tackle Judas. Puzzlingly, they let him run away as he burst through the hallway entrance door. Judas was weeping bitterly as he ran for his dear life.

Shortly afterward, Judas went to the temple where the chief priests and elders were, approaching them, "Saying, I have sinned in that I have betrayed the innocent blood. And they said, What is that to us? see thou to that." (Matthew 27:4) Judas shouted at them and said, "The bloody barbaric beating was not a part of the arrangement!" He then cast down the pieces of silver (tossing them down and scattering them on the floor near them) in the temple and departed, storming out in bitter tears. Some of them were puzzled as to what Judas meant by "bloody barbaric beating" and gave counsel regarding the silver pieces he threw on the floor at them.

Earlier, when Judas departed from the torture chamber, a dark and ugly monster (Lucifer) with a chilling voice turned to one of his evil warlords named Suicide and said, "Get rid of him! We no longer need him." Suicide quickly went after Judas, and soon after he left the religious leaders, at just the right mentally traumatic moment, he made a dreadfully loud outburst that Judas terrifyingly heard and entered his body.

Judas quickly recognized what was happening after witnessing Jesus casting out many demons and began putting up a mental fight for his life. Judas began using the "exorcise technique" he learned during Jesus' ministry of how to cast out devils, but it was not working. It worked during the ministry, he quickly thought, but now, when he seriously needed it to work, it didn't. This was no ordinary physical fight, but a fight for total body and mind control.

Judas was on the ground, spinning over and over, fighting for his life, holding his head with both hands, grabbing and tearing his facial skin, and pulling out his own hair from the intense battle that was raging in his head. Suicide said to him, "I'm going to kill you, fool! Stop putting up a fight!" Then, with a loud "howl" and a massive amount of mental strength, Judas lost the mental battle, and his body was invaded.

Judas put up a ferocious battle but was overpowered after an intense struggle that caused blood to rupture from his mouth and nose. His eyes rolled over and were all white. This invasion was so intense that Judas' hand clawed and ripped a small but extremely deep opening wound in his lower abdomen below his navel area that started a lot of bleeding.

Just before this dirty, unclean invasion, Judas hesitantly screamed out, "Jesus, help me!" He cried out for the only person he knew could help him, but there was no answer or response.

His face was all clawed up during the mental battle, and he was screaming at the top of his voice. His body was invaded by a destructively harmful and dangerously powerful unclean spirit that was ugly, very stink, loud (he was one of Lucifer's right-hand demons), and painfully evil. Judas was very conscious of what was happening around him, but lost all body function to the invader. He also lost his vision and was unaware of what this demon intended to do to him. He was also unaware that this strong demon's name was Suicide.

Judas raced down the side streets like a maniac. His hands were swinging over his head, and down to his hips, and back to his head, left to right and right to left, repeatedly. They all swung back and forth as he went, laughing and shouting out loud, blaspheming and cursing everyone and everything in sight. People who saw him screamed and ran away from him because of how frightening his appearance looked. His entire face was changed and looked very angry and furious. His eyes were all white with no pupil (the eyeballs rolled over during Judas' battle with Suicide). His teeth were visible as though they would bite and mutilate anyone caught on the spot because blood was around and dripping from his mouth.

There were many wounds and bruises on his face and body that he inflicted on himself from battling with Suicide, and from running into buildings, trees and falling by tripping over the uneven surface terrain. Even though this caused more cuts, bruises, and deep wounds, each time he banged into something, he made a loud outburst of laughter. His fingers pretended to claw everything he cursed and swore at. Everyone who saw him from a distance knew immediately that something was seriously wrong with him and quickly fled in another direction.

Judas was unsure where Suicide was taking him but felt all his body movements and heard the screaming from people who were near him. He somehow felt his body grab something that felt like ropes while running up a slope. His body's energy level was supernaturally enhanced, working beyond its capacity. His body finally stopped, and began contouring the rope with his hands. Even though he could not see, but felt the rope placed around his neck, he was still uncertain what Suicide was going to do.

Suicide configured a long rope, one end as a noose, and left the other end loose. He tied the loose end to a tree about six feet away from the edge of a cliff or the brow of a hill above ground level. (For proof that it was on a hill, a cliff, or the "brow of a hill," see the word "headlong" in both verses at Luke 4:29 and Acts 1:18. Then, consider why it was used.) The configured noose end was correctly positioned and lightly tightened around Judas' neck. Suicide (using Judas' body) went about 50 feet backward, then ran as fast as he could with supernaturally enhanced speed toward the cliff's edge. Judas' body dove with all his might and speed into the open air as though he was diving into a lake below him.

With such force and his body weight, as he soared and began descending into the open sky, the rope's slackness straightened out and tightened, immediately breaking his neck. Judas' body abruptly stopped in mid-air and swung in the opposite direction. His head remained in the forward direction, but the rest of his body made an abrupt 180-degree turn just before slamming onto the cliff's lower parts.

Because of his combined body weight, velocity, and force, when his body abruptly stopped in mid-air, a stream of blood gushed through his ears, nose, and mouth. The force created, caused his entire mid-section internal organs (the bottom part of his stomach and his small and large intestine, etc.) to all burst through the small, deep wound created when battling Suicide. It all happened so fast, by the time the body slammed into the cliff's lower parts, his entire midsection had shot out like a bullet into the open air.

Judas' small intestine was so long that one end was still attached to his stomach and the other end to his large intestine, all of which were still attached to his body. They were all hanging toward the ground below as the body hung, swinging on the rope. His head and lower body (from the shoulders to his toes) hang in the direction facing the ground. Judas' internal midsection came out, hanging toward the ground with blood all over his legs. Judas died a horrible and painful death with his eyes and mouth wide open. (Acts 1:16-20)

Further details after making that dive, immediately, Suicide left Judas' body, causing him to instantly regain control of it, which quickly restored his eyesight. Judas was again fully in control of his own body and saw his surroundings "fraction of seconds" before he died. He felt intense pain at that moment from the ordeal. However, to his horror, as he suddenly recognized what was about to happen, the only thing he had time to do was scream! It all occurred too fast. The moment he screamed and the rope tightened around his neck, his tongue burst through his mouth along with lots of blood and hung down his chest and stomach area like a necktie. His dive came to an abrupt stop in mid-air, and his body slammed into the side of the cliff. His tongue hung from his mouth, dripping blood as Judas' body swung on the rope.

Suicide stood in shock from all of this and laughed at how Judas' mid-body internal parts burst through his lower abdomen. He had never destroyed anyone like that before. He bragged to himself about the stunt and vowed to try it again with another one of his victims. To achieve this stunt again, as he thought to himself, he would have to cause a deep wound in his victim's lower abdomen. Nevertheless, to him, the outcome was awesome!

Suicide loudly cursed him, and shouted out saying, "This is for your stupid defiance you fool!" as Judas' spirit began descending into the earth. He then laughed out loud while leaving Judas' body hanging. By the time Suicide returned to Lucifer, where Jesus was, they had already nailed Him to the cross...

When Judas died, his story became history. His name took on a new meaning. Afterward, no one dared name their sons by this name. The name ended up being one of the most despised and feared names for centuries. No one even dared name their pets by his name, fearing that, as a result, the animal might someday turn on them.

Imagine witnessing Judas standing before the ONE whom he betrayed to be judged!

His final eternal journey appearance before God continues...

...After spending centuries in hell screaming and clawing at everything he could get his hands on, he was finally summoned to stand and appear before God, whom he betrayed to be judged. (Rev. 20:13) Everything Judas did in heaven and on earth was brought to his memory. (On earth, he had no access to any prior knowledge as a human. He was conceived with zero wisdom, knowledge, and understanding and came with his "betrayal baggage," so to speak.) When Judas saw God's face with the look as though it was seriously damaged, he hung his head down, being greatly ashamed and fearfully afraid.

God calmly said after a mysterious and "frightening" long silence, "What do you say for yourself, Judas?" Judas responded with tears, saying, "LORD, what can I say? What can I do? What could undo what I have done? I have greatly sinned. No one's sin is as great as mine. I lived, walked, talked, partook with you, and betrayed you both times and in both worlds just so that I could feed my lustful and greedy desires.

During the unveiling of your forgiving act (The Ultimate Sacrificial Act), when I could have been forgiven, I rejected it. LORD, are you still the most forgiving, compassionate, most loving one I know? Is your forgiveness still possible now? How can I escape my eternal suffering in the Lake of Fire? Is there a way, LORD? Is there something I can do to appease your wrath now? If there is, please reveal it to your humble servant. Are you the God of forgiveness? Is your forgiveness able or powerful enough to reach out to me NOW in my condition!?"

Judas used a little tactful psychology here by requesting from God another possible way, knowing full well that God never lies. He is always truthful. He is all-knowing, and if there were another way, according to His own Word, He would have been somewhat obligated (especially on this occasion) to reveal it. Nevertheless, God knew his subtle heart's desire and responded accordingly with great wisdom "past finding out." (Job 9:10, Rom. 11:33)

An Illustration of False promises resulting from fear ONLY

This writer knows a woman who went on a trip by plane to another country. The plane got into very bad weather and began rocking out of control. Most of the people on board began crying; some of them screaming, including this woman. For fear of death from a possible plane crash, she began praying to God with all her might, begging and pleading with Him to save her and the plane. She went as far as making lots of vows and promises to Him: If He would save the plane and her life, she would turn over a new chapter and begin serving Him like never before. The aircraft was obviously doomed, and everyone would have been killed because of the way it was maneuvering.

This promise was loudly repeated, over and over again, as she passionately wept. Fate had it that the pilots miraculously managed to gain control of the airplane and land it safely at the nearest airport, which was their scheduled destination. The woman practically kissed the ground when she exited the plane and went about her usual self. That night, she had quickly forgotten all her promises (the things she prayed to God for) and continued her vile and partying lifestyle. She returned to her old natural self, forgetting all the promises and vows made to God about turning over a "new leaf." She was a partying girl, but instead of slowly retracting from the hard-party lifestyle, she appeared to have gotten worse.

This woman's heart was not sincere. She only made these promises out of fear, and not out of a true love for God. Her emotional crying drama was a false facade or mask made to God because, when the element of fear was removed, she simply abandoned all her promised commitments and returned to her natural self and more.

The truth of the matter is that if God demanded an authoritarian type of relationship of submission or face suffering or death to all violators, many of us would have sooner or later tried in secret to do the things we wanted to do and disobey the things God wants us to do. If this was not possible without God knowing about it, we then would have always been complaining to ourselves about why is God controlling our lives and not allowing us to control our own lives. We would have eventually complained to Him that we wanted to do what we wished, not what He wanted us to do. This attitude was clearly seen throughout the Old Testament scripture, especially during Israel's journey through the wilderness.

As a result of fear or that which is fearful (a fearful sight), most people WILL falsely, tearfully, and regretfully respond in a sorrowful way to God. However, remove the fear or the fearful element and they WILL eventually deny or reject God. The opposite is also equally true, depending on the circumstances and the attitude and character of the person.

Also, for more on this, read the document called: "Why then did Jesus not clearly, plainly, and publicly say He was God?" found at: www.apublicviewing.com.

God replied to Judas by saying: "All of this would not have happened without your false analytical observation announcement to Lucifer about routine activities in My Courts. All of the rebellious angels waited to hear from both you and Lucifer on where My strength and power lie. Like Samson, who was slimly built but had massive strength, because I chose to maintain a size and appearance like you, when your wisdom was poisoned (by your own choice and will) by corrupting yourself with the “heroin fruit-drug” of pride, lust, and greed, you then believed I could not have been the absolute source and energy of the power that kept the entire universe together.

You rejected the fact that I held it in the palm of My hands. ‘How could this be?’ you thought. ‘Someone who looks just like me! What manner of servant-God is this? He commands the entire universe, and it obeys Him!’ (Matt. 8:27, Mark 4:41, Luke 8:25) You searched for more wisdom and knowledge (Job 28:12-28), thinking you can find all the answers to become like Me.” (This spiritual “heroin fruit-drug” brought about the sins of pride, lust, and greed. On the other hand, the physical heroin fruit-drug does the complete opposite. It breaks the will down and takes pride, lust, and greed away; but then, in the end, like the spiritual drug, it eventually destroys the user.)

A look at Samson for a moment

(Judges Chapters 13 to 16)

From all indications, he had to have been a very slim-built person. This was why his enemies could not figure out where his great strength came from. If he had very large body mass like bulky bodybuilders today, there would be no questions as to where his massive strength came from. But notice carefully that the Philistines could not figure it out. Nevertheless, when God wanted him to perform a mighty task requiring enormous amount of strength and energy, the Spirit came upon him. Now, when the task was completed, the Spirit left him.

Moreover, it is also assumed (but not recorded in scripture) that Delilah may have gotten Samson to reveal his secret by tricking him into believing she was pregnant and urgently needed instructions on caring and bringing up the child. (She may have convinced him that if it was a son, he needed to be strong like his father.) This would have meant so much to Samson because there is no record in scripture of him having children. Also, at that time, he was either close to 40 years of age or older. (Maybe, he was unaware that he could not have any offsprings.) Therefore, he decided to reveal his secret after Delilah “...pressed him daily with her words, and urged him...” (Judges 16:16) He may have possibly been thinking (after being sexually active for so long and having no children) that he would finally have a child with Delilah, and perhaps a very strong and ONLY son. He had to ensure Delilah was instructed to do the right things (“...drink not wine nor strong drink...no razor shall come on his head...” [Judges 13:4-5]), so that his son could grow up strong like him.

God continued: “After this, for quite awhile you watched My every move. Your eyes carefully examined everything I touched and did. In My Courts, you followed Me just about everywhere I went and watched intensely. You did this like you most often did when you walked with Me and My disciples on the earth. I knew what you were up to but allowed you to continue your surveillance of Me. (Psalm 38:12-14) You were not aware then of all My many powerful attributes: Immensity, Immutability, Omnipotent, Omniscient, and others.

Finally, you believed you had found the possible link to My power. You somewhat thought you had figured it out and passed the information over to Lucifer and his co-conspirators. After this, Lucifer along with the other rebellious angels started their plot. You both were thinking that I could become powerless and in a helpless state to be attacked and destroyed so that (as Lucifer ‘secretly’ disclosed), ‘a new universal order would be declared.’ Lucifer got you, Judas, to do his dirty job after convincing you (like he did to Eve in the Garden of Eden) to partake in the forbidden “heroin fruit-drug” of pride, lust, and greed. By doing so, he was certainly convinced that it brought about great pleasure, wisdom, and the knowledge of good and evil, to become like Me, the Most High, according to him.

Judas, because of your high office in heaven, you had to proceed with doing this first before Lucifer summoned all his followers to battle. The rebel angels all proceeded then and tried with their wicked intentions to destroy Me: the One who was always their best friend; the One who loved (and was extremely good to) all of them.

During My illegal trial on earth, Lucifer was a type of the Pharisees, Sadducees, chief priests, scribes, and elders of the people. The rebellious angels were a type of the soldiers who arrested Me and participated in My suffering and Crucifixion. On earth (like you were in heaven), you were exactly what you became (a critical piece to the plot): a follower of Me, a disciple in the inner circle who followed Me everywhere I went. Lucifer could not have pulled this off by himself. He needed to get your critical observation confirmation, like your betrayal kiss on earth (Matt. 26:48-50, Mark 14:43-46, Luke 22:47-48), before making his move. He did not make his move without hearing from you. You were closer to Me than him. Lucifer was the poisoning ring-leader and made his move after speaking with and getting the go-ahead signal from you.

From the beginning, you were unaware that I knew I was the prey, and you were the hunter, desperately searching and watching Me closely for where My great and mighty power lied. You were like Delilah, who pressed Samson daily for where his “great strength lieth.” Though you did not want your wicked intentions known, you searched and followed Me everywhere possible. If you were convinced you had certainly found the mirth of what you were looking for, you would have used it for your own selfish gain and destroyed Me if it was possible. However, because you were somewhat, a little doubtful, as a result, you passed this information on to Lucifer, stepping back and allowing him to do the dirty work. However, Lucifer was the mastermind behind all of it.

During the uprising, you did not participate like all the other angels but remained stealthy as though you were not apart of the insurrection. You knew if the angels succeeded, you were going to be rewarded and greatly recognized for your efforts. Therefore, you remained covertly calm just in case the plan failed. You would be safe, and all the others would be dealt with accordingly. You knew I was overly or too forgiving because of My extremely humble, very loving, kind, and compassionate character. You did not believe or suspect there would be serious repercussions or consequences if the plan failed. Before all of this, you were unaware then that I was All-Knowing and a God of wrath; two characteristics of Me you did not know.

Had it not been for you, the entire cause and turn of events in heaven would not have occurred the way it did. Lucifer would have continued with his conspiracy if you were not involved, but the results would not have turned out as great as they did. You, along with Lucifer, destroyed a very large portion of My creation and brought about this intense punishment upon yourselves. And besides all of this, how could I let you get away with this if a huge number of other angels (persons) were already cast into the Lake of Fire? Because of your high office (in heaven and on earth) and what you did, your sins are far greater than many of them combined.

Yes, Judas, My forgiving power and love for you are truly greater than you can ever imagine. It is greater to the extent that I am willing to even forgive you now for all that you did to Me; even embracing you and allowing you to go free. Nevertheless, I am JUST! I am FAIR! I cannot allow sin to go unpunished. If I did, I would cease being God, which can never happen. I am The Eternal God. I had to become human and pay dearly for your sins. That was enough, and all that was required to forgive you. You rejected My sin-free gift: My ‘Pardon Agreement’ offer and died in your sins.”

Now, we truly understand why God will mysteriously wipe the memories of our sins from Himself and us, so that all sins (or all evil acts) committed by us will no longer be remembered. No, never: No more, forever! If there are no more recollections of our painful, sinful, or evil undertakings, and those of our loved ones and their fate, then there will be no more or nothing to cry about. This truly explains why there will be no more crying. (Revelation 21:4) Also, never again will God remember the painfully so-called, “tuff-love” act (see the “...for mine own sake...” statement below) of turning His back on His creation: His enemies whom He loved so much; those who were cast into the Lake of Fire; to remember them no more, FOREVER! (“...I, am he that blotteth out thy transgressions for mine own sake, and will not remember thy sins.” “For, behold, I create new heavens and a new earth: and the former shall not be remembered, nor come into mind.” “...from the least of them unto the greatest of them, saith the LORD: for I will forgive their iniquity, and I will remember their sin no more.” [Is. 43:25, 65:17, Jer. 31:34])

“Also, besides all of this, if you were forgiven and given another chance, you would sooner or later try again to destroy Me if it was possible and if evil was not totally removed from My creation. That will never change; it will always be there lurking and waiting for another opportunity, especially when fear is absent. Furthermore, it is now only through fear you are tearfully regretful, but remove the fear and you will eventually betray Me again.” (Ps. 36:1-4, Pr. 1:23-31)

“Remove the fear,” meaning, starting afresh, returning to zero wisdom, knowledge, and understanding, and removing all visible signs of His glory and His consistent appearing presence, along with all surrounding things that can “visibly” prove He exists. All that goes beyond natural laws, like those of Moses and Israel’s freedom journey experiences. This is of cause with the exception of the heavens, which declare His handiwork (Ps. 19:1), His glory, and creative design. This is why to know Him is to fear Him, and to fear Him is to know Him. Thus, the fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom. (Pr. 1:7; also, Job 28:28) So then, those who truly fear Him will know Him and be saved.

(Luke 23:40-43) Those who don’t and remain in their fearless, “atheistic freedom of choice” state of mind will be cast into the Lake of Fire. All “no fear of God” views are atheistic in nature. (For example, the statements: “We all will die one day, but who cares what happens after this?” “I am certain many people I know who went before me, I will go where they went, especially my loved ones, because I want to be with them.” “I am not afraid of death because everyone MUST walk this lonely and unknown pathway.” “I consider myself a good person, and as a result, I believe God will allow me into heaven.”)

Ex. 20:20, 23:27; Deut. 4:10; Job 28:28; Ps. 53:1, 111:10, 2:1-6; Prov. 1:7, 29, 14:27; Is. 8:13; Jer. 32:40; Luke 23:40-43; Acts 9:31; 2 Cor. 7:1; Phil. 2:12-13; Heb. 4:1, 12:28; Rev. 11:18 and 19:5.

“You, along with Lucifer and the others, choose to infect yourselves with the “heroin fruit-drug” of sin: pride, lust, and greed. From these three came all the other sins. They were long-lasting ecstasies that were intensely sweet to the soul; but they transformed you into wicked, devilish monsters.

Judas, you have chosen from the very beginning, by your own choice, to become a manifestation of pride, lust, and greed. You became ‘pride.’ You became ‘lust,’ and you became ‘greed,’ thinking it would cause you to become like Me. As a result, you will never change. At that very moment, you knew this change (drugs) was going to transform you forever. When you had the chance to turn away before infecting yourself, you abandoned all doubts and consumed the sin drug. You desperately wanted to be like Me: God. Furthermore, in addition to this Judas, you will never in eternity change back to your original self on your own. You needed Me, the only one who could create that change for you, but you refused it by rejecting Me.

In addition to this, even though I will completely remove evil from My creation, if I didn’t, I can see a great distance down through the tunnel age of eternity that you will once again try your stunt to destroy My creation and accuse Me, but in an extremely different and subtle manner.

For humanity, all evil (sinful) acts were paid off in full. You, nevertheless, rejected My pardon (or sin-free) offer, and therefore, I certainly will not extend this pardon to you. Furthermore, circumstances were made freely available to you as a human. So, if you did not want My pardon (or sin-free) arrangement then, it would not be fair, just, and right to give you something you truly didn't want, even now...because you truly did not want it then, I cannot lawfully, rightfully and fairly give it to you NOW!"

Judas' early years and how he became one of Jesus' disciples
3 - THREE -
This story is not found in Scripture, but mysteriously came to mind as this section was being written.

Judas was schooled in one of Israel's finest or the nation's top Pharisaic business and finance colleges. He was trained as an "international" financier and a professional accountant of the day. Throughout his youth, his goal and desire were to become very wealthy and influential in the field of business. Accumulating wealth became his passion, and therefore, very early in life, just after college, he began making small investments in several money-making business opportunities that paid off as the years went by. He was born into a middle-class family (the Iscariots), who helped him start his career and to reach the top of his profession.

Judas had a best friend named Godfrey who had the same desire, and both of them together began their goal of building wealth.

They covenanted together to become lifetime blood brothers. When one of their business investments failed, the other partner came to the rescue and acted as a cushion for the one with the lost revenue. (Judas was attracted to other persons with the same success and ambitious mind in the field, as he thought to himself, and associated with them only because these persons may someday in the future, help to get him to the top of his career.)

This "blood brotherly partnership" continued for some time, and it developed a strong bond that built a great deal of trust between them. Both of them, from time to time, occasionally experienced investment losses, but working together as a team, relieved the burden these losses created. They trusted one another and worked hard to get to the top. Honesty and integrity were between them only; but, outside of this relationship, they were ruthless and "walked" over, or destroyed anyone who stepped into (or blocked) their financial mission pathways.

Very early, when Jesus' ministry started, Judas was fascinated by the Prophet John's message and just happened to be present when he introduced Jesus as "the Lamb of God which taketh away the sins of the world." Judas was curious and decided to listen intently because everyone considered John to be a prophet of God.

Judas remembered hearing about a young boy around his age called, Jesus, many years earlier with great wisdom, an enormous amount of talent, and the ability to speak many different languages fluently. It was also rumored that He could somehow communicate with animals, which caused Judas to somehow doubt the information he had heard. Talking to an animal was heard of once in Numbers 22:28-30 with Balaam and his donkey, but that was a divine intervention by God, he thought.

Rumors also had it that He had great humility because when there were competitions of the talented (mental and physical through sports and games), He never participated, but yet, was capable of winning everything one could imagine. Judas attended many competitive tournaments represented by Israel's finest and most talented individuals but never once saw Jesus participating in them. If

He was as talented as rumors had Him to be, Judas was certain He would have seen Him present to at least one of these major events. As a result, all of the rumors were not taken too seriously by him because it was only natural that anyone with such great, unique, and multiple talents would eventually test or prove themselves with others and become well-known in the country.

Unbeknown at the time, Jesus avoided situations and games that would have drawn attention to His great wisdom, unbeatable talents, and perfect performance. Also, if He had pretended to allow His opponents to win in tournaments, then He would have cheated which was not His nature. Cheating in any way was sinful. If He had won all games, challenges, and sporting tournaments, it would have drawn too much attention before His Messianic assignment began. Therefore, He avoided all challenges and all of Israel's competitive events.

Judas heard that His multiple talents were endless. He had hoped to meet Him one day and if rumors were correct, perhaps do some business together because Jesus' honesty and integrity preceded Him. Now, that day had finally arrived. 'So, this was Jesus,' he thought.

Several days later, Judas reencountered Jesus a second time, but this time, saw something that blew his mind. Markus was a man with one leg whom Judas knew very well. He was this way for years, from when he was a little boy until he met Jesus. Judas saw with his own eyes when his missing leg was restored. In the blink of an eye, he had his lost left leg recovered and perfectly matching the other leg. (Matt. 15:31) Even more so, he did not need any therapy or learn to walk again. It all came with (or built into) the miracle.

Judas then thought to himself that this was undoubtedly convincing. Jesus was going to be a famous prophet, perhaps the conquering king who was prophesied to come according to the scriptures. He began to envision the perfect opportunity to achieve his life's mission. He was now convinced of all the rumors he had previously heard. In his mind, the leaders of Israel and eventually all nations will embrace Jesus if He continues performing this kind of miracle. Everyone who came to Jesus with serious body ailments and disfigurements was healed, or their body part(s) were restored as new. Jesus appeared to always be in close company with men His age, which was an excellent opportunity for Judas because he too, was young (and would fit in), at thirty years of age.

As a result of all the miracles that were done, Judas began thinking that Jesus would become "the product" and a household name. He would become world-famous, and there were no doubts that people, including the leaders of all nations, would embrace Him for the wonderful miracles being performed. Most importantly, in his thinking, Jesus would need a team of individuals to market himself and His message. A treasurer and a financier were certainly critical when He began establishing his very own government (Isaiah 9:6). Thus, 'he needed not to look any further than me,' he thought. He was capable of handling both of these financial positions and looked at them from a business perspective. He was confident Jesus' mission was going to be big. 'What a coincidence and a privilege to meet and be in company with Jesus,' he thought.

Judas was later even more convinced that Jesus was indeed Israel's Messiah and would be their new king because of the massive number of miracles He was performing. It was an almost too-perfect opportunity to become a part of the inner circle of men who followed him. He was almost certain (based on the unqualified financial qualities of the other men who were His inner circle of friends) that if he displayed all the knowledge, experience, and strategic financial skills developed over the years, he would become the top financier in the country and eventually the entire world. This was big in his mind, and Jesus was going to succeed.

Jesus Healed Animals Too?

¹During His travels to the surrounding villages, lots of birds appeared to love flying overhead from tree to tree as He continued walking. As soon as the crowds disappeared and He was left with one or two persons talking, a few of them (birds) would boldly fly towards Him, landing on either His shoulders or hands if they were stretched out in a position to welcome them. The birds that landed on Him seemed to be energized as they touched Him. When they flew off, they whistled away as though they were overly happy.

This continued until other persons came to Him (Jesus). Then they would stop flying towards Him and wait in trees nearby. Jesus would simply look up at them in the trees and raise His hand as though He was waving at them. When He did this, the birds started a frenzy of whistling just before many of them would fly away. Little did the disciples know at the time that virtue had gone out from Him and healed all of them who had some type of bird sickness.

This episode not only happened with birds but with other animals too, like dogs. When a few persons stood nearby talking to Jesus, one or two dogs would somehow rush towards Him, turning their heads from side to side, frantically surveying their surroundings for animal haters. When arriving next to Jesus, they would quickly place their noses up against His leg as though they would smell Him. Afterward, they would leave, bouncing away, joyfully barking as though to say thanks so much. Jesus somehow knew their language and waved goodbye as they boldly strode away.

The disciples all marveled at this at times when it happened and believed somehow the animals knew who He was, and as a result, some of them may have even come to Him for healing.

¹These thoughts are not in scripture but came to mind as this section was being written.

However, Judas curiously noticed how simple and humble Jesus kept His pace, as early rumors had it. He was not pushing Himself to be famous or for people to recognize Him. He was only focused on achieving the mission of His Father as mentioned by Him in His sermons. As a result, Judas had to somewhat tune down or camouflage his ambitious and aggressive approach to blend in with Jesus' uncomplicated forward movement: His simple and humble mission style. Judas wanted to be a part of the team and remain at Jesus' side, hoping he would eventually be the finance man and perhaps the world's most powerful finance minister next to Jesus' side if he was chosen. This was now his opportunity, because, in Judas' mind, Jesus would go no other way but to the top.

For the next several days, Judas was like "white on rice." He was like "glue" to Jesus' ministry. He followed Him wherever He went as long as the men who were already chosen to follow Him went as well. Judas was always suggesting how to finance the group, lending a helping hand, and advising on critical financial advice to sustain the ministry as it grows.

Judas also began donating personal funds to the group; not because he cared for the success of Jesus' ministry, but to try and get Jesus' approval to allow him to become a part of His inner circle of team members. Judas knew how to get lots of financial support from the wealthy, successful businessmen he knew in most cities. His message to them, he thought, was going to be very convincing.

He learned a lot from his young professional investment years, and this was his perfect opportunity to "stage-perform" his vast knowledge to Jesus. He knew who the financial "big boys" and players were in most cities. Therefore, raising funds for Jesus' ministry would be easy. An advantage he knowingly had over the others was that neither of them was as financially knowledgeable nor competently able as he was.

Judas quickly began his mission of raising funds for the group by sending out requests to people he knew very well, who could make donations to grow the work. One of his persuading marketing messages was that Jesus was the one who would soon free Israel from the Romans, like Moses freed the children of Israel from Pharaoh. Funds poured in as a result, and also because many of them already heard and seen the miracles Jesus was performing.

Early before taking this direction, he discussed it with Godfrey and promised that whatever happens, he would be a big part of the process: the world financiers; together as long as they live.

Finally, after several days, Jesus' inner circle of the men's selection process was completed, and he was now part of this great team. He was extremely excited about his appointment and mentally promised to "serve the office" well. (Judas was unaware that God the Father was the one who selected him and instructed His Son to do the same. The Father had told Jesus at the beginning of His ministry how desperate a young man called Judas Iscariot was going to be just to join the group and, after three years, betray Him, as stated in John 6:64. Still, He was instructed to select him or include him in the selection process.)

For reasons why Jesus was told this and more, read the document called, "Evidence of Jesus (God) Being Conceived Human With Zero Wisdom, Knowledge, and Understanding," found at: www.apublicviewing.com.

Judas was unaware that in just over one year, the entire financial world that he and Godfrey built together would start falling apart. It was all due to the miracles Jesus started doing.

Judas was blown away, so to speak, by the huge number of miracles being performed. One type of miracle that was originally confusing was when unclean spirits were cast out of persons. This was unheard of before Jesus' ministry. Judas saw men and women who walked the streets doing things that were unnatural but never knew it was the result of demonic possession.

This created a whole new concept and belief for Judas about the spirit world and the spirit person in human bodies. Unclean spirits (who talk and are real ghosts or spirit personalities) somehow walk into victims and take full control of their bodies, pushing their spirit aside, out of the way, so to speak. (He began to learn of separate or multiple entities uniting as one in a single human body.) When this happened, victims began doing things that are not natural. They began doing abnormal things that are foreign to normal human behaviors.

Just before following Jesus, Judas believed that the human body was entirely one entity, or one part, and not multiple parts united as one. He always thought that when a person dies, everything dies (everything that made up that person). In other words, there were no separate parts. He never thought the body, soul, and spirit were united together and functioned jointly as one. But after witnessing the exorcisms done by Jesus, his concept and belief changed. (The body could die, leaving the other parts alive, according to what Jesus said.) This destroyed the doctrine of the Sadducees, he thought. (See Acts 23:8) Besides this, Judas then fully understood what Jesus meant when He said, "And fear not them which kill the body, but are not able to kill the soul: but rather fear him which is able to destroy both soul and body in hell." (Matt. 10:28) The "them" in this verse referred to men, Lucifer, and his evil warlords. The "him" referred to God.

Furthermore, a few scripture verses in his mind took on different meanings: The statement in Psalm 146:4 regarding death ("...his thoughts perish."), now means, "thoughts of moving from the physical protocol realm of doing things" cease and are replaced with the spiritual protocol thoughts of the way things will be performed thereafter. For example, thoughts of going to sleep, bathing, eating, clothing, transportation, working, receiving wages, buying, selling, etc. The thoughts of them all will perish or cease. (These are physical activities of the physical realm, and not those of the spiritual realm.)

Ecclesiastes 9:5 ("...but the dead know not any thing...for the memory of them is forgotten.") simply pointed to the biblical phrases, "under the sun," and "in the land of the living." Job 18:17 ("His remembrance shall perish from the earth, and he shall have no name in the street."), and Eccl. 9:5 ("...for the memory of them is forgotten."), then was understood to mean that many days or years after one's death, no one living will generally remember them unless they are historically recorded. Also, usually, this too is forgotten or perishes over time. (Judas originally thought that these verses referred to the actual deceased person's memory.)

Fear for Lucifer and his wicked warlords was/is forbidden and disobeys God's command!

God commanded Christians NOT to fear Lucifer and his demonic host. Fear God ONLY! (Matt. 10:26-28, Luke 12:4-5, Rom. 3:18, 2 Cor. 7:1, Eph 5:21, 2 Tim. 1:7, Heb. 12:28, 13:6, 1 Peter 2:17, Rev. 14:7, 19:5) Therefore, if we fear them (as we fear God) by what we see, watch, or what we allow to entertain us (e.g., horror movies; also, and very importantly, Romans 1:32), we disobey this command and set ourselves up for satanic misfortunes.

We should never allow or expose our minds to anything that creates fear for the unclean spirit or demonic world. If we don't expose our minds to these evil spiritual living entities, then they are somewhat powerless with their tactful undertakings on the individual person. Fear for them disobeys God's command and opens a doorway they use to get into our bodies. AVOID horror movies or anything that creates and promotes fear of the unclean spirit world! They are all Satan's trap of creating fear, which disobeys God's command.

Another point to remember is that, according to Scripture, unclean spirits cannot withstand FIRE! Fire is a spiritual (and physical) element that brings about pain and suffering in the spirit world. This was why the biblical instructions for any evil objects or those that were used in worship to idols, were to burn them with fire. This completely severs any occult links or demonic attachments that exist. It will cause them to sever themselves away from it. Demons cannot bear this destructive element (which, in ways, helpful to humans). It is always a chilling reminder to Lucifer and his wicked warlords of their pending fate. (Deut. 7:5, 25-26, 12:3, 13:16, Josh. 11:6)

Drawings, depicting demons in hell, and tormenting occupants are not correct and far from the truth. It's just a cover-up by the evil one to make people believe that there is some degree of normal tolerance there, when in fact this is untrue. Based on points given earlier, regarding objects with unclean spiritual attachments, we can certainly say that demons cannot withstand, be around, or be near a large blaze of fire unless God intervenes. It is very painful for them and a deadly, dreadful reminder of their inevitable future.

(Therefore, we should ignore artwork displaying man's concept of demons in hell, tormenting occupants. We constantly see this in drawings, artistic and comic presentations. No one "alive" is certain of this and could only speculate.) Fire's enemy, water, will not be anywhere near to cool or comfort them. Hell and the Lake of Fire are both horrifyingly and terrifyingly bigger than we all think. There are no ways of escaping from them.

In Judas' mind, this was very new and frightening after finding out how demons can get in. He discovered that one of the main ways of entry was (and is) to embrace any physical form of sexual intercourse outside of marriage (a man and a woman, etc.), which was strictly forbidden by God. As the Word of God puts it, "...Every sin that a man doeth is without the body; but he that committeth fornication sinneth against his own body." (1 Corinthians 6:15-18) This allows an "open door" to the body for an unclean spirit (spirit-soul entity) to enter.

(Remember the great oneness mystery in Ephesians 5:31-32: "...This is a great mystery..." Both male and female bodies mysteriously become one, with doorways opening to each of them. In an unmarried, disobedient, sexual relationship, this oneness mystery is then joined by other spirit-soul entities, making it six or more parts, adding to the "four-part oneness" active victims. This oneness mystery was designed by God ONLY between a man and his wife, a woman, for companionship and procreation.

With an open door, the individual can then have three or thousands of parts united in a single body as one: one body, many spirit persons, each with their very own soul part, but yet, one of these many spirits-soul is the body's rightful owner. The body's rightful owner is then pushed aside and overpowered by all the other unclean spirit persons. God designed the body's protocol of multiple parts to function as one: all parts functioning as one entity.)

Can spirit persons (ghosts) walk into and unite with each other, becoming one entity?

Can anyone explain how thousands of unclean spirits (ghosts) enter a single physical body and unite as one with it? How can a legion (3,000 or more: Mark 5:1-13) of demonic spirits mysteriously enter a single human body and are all able to control it synchronously; uniting (or walking into each other) and functioning as one with it? For example, one voice, one movement, one goal and objective, one mind, one thought, etc. Without this synchronous oneness, there will be chaos in the body: one of the demonic spirits wants the head to turn left, but another demon controlling the eyes wants it to look the other way. One of the demons controlling one of the legs wants to go right, but another demon controlling the other leg wants to go the other way. Each hand wants to do something different, not cooperating with the rest of the body. (Slowly read Mark 5:1-13 carefully and observe how the following words are used: "an," "spirit," "spirits," "I," "me," "thou," "thy," "name," "my," "Legion," "we are many," "he," "them," "all the devils" and "us.")

The unity or oneness of these unclean spiritual persons is crucial for the body's moving parts to function properly without disagreements from others who are all within. How is it that evil spirits can enter a human body, pushing aside (so to speak) the body's rightful owner and then taking full control of it? If we can clearly understand and explain this mysterious oneness, then certainly we will be able to understand and explain how God can be three separate persons and yet three of them One. Remember that God is Spirit. Can spirits mysteriously unite as one inside or outside a physical body? This is a great mystery we may never fully understand until our spirit-soul separates from our body at death.

What is known, though, is that God designed the body's protocol of multiple parts to all function as one entity.

Can you explain how a spirit person (a ghost) can walk through or into a wall? Can a spirit unite with a picture or an object? Can a spirit person (a ghost) walk through another ghost or spirit person? Can two or more spirits join or walk into each other to become one with each other? Can you explain the spirit-world protocols and how they work? What did Jesus mean in John 14:10-11 ("...I am in the Father, and the Father in me...") after saying, "I and my Father are one" in John 10:30 (not "one person," but "one")? Obviously, the Son and the Father are two separate persons; therefore, "one person" could not have been meant here because, humanly speaking, it would not make any sense.

Many months had passed as Judas' account continued...

Many months had passed when Judas began becoming very agitated with Jesus' progress of becoming king or ruler of Israel. He appeared not to have any interest in becoming one. In his mind and according to how the prophets described the messiah's mission, He may not be the person they spoke of. The prophet Isaiah said in 9:6-7, "...the government shall be upon his shoulder...his government and peace there shall be no end, upon the throne of David, and upon his kingdom to order it..." The Messiah was supposed to have been focused on leading Israel out of oppression from the Romans, but Jesus seems not to be interested. His mission seems not to be heading in that direction.

As Moses led the people out of slavery and was constantly up into "leadership face," Judas expected Jesus would do the same for Israel. Even more so, when the people wanted to make Him king, He completely turned away and left them standing confused about His mission. (John 6:15) As Judas thought to himself, He may not be the one whom the prophets spoke of because Jesus rejected the offer when it was presented to Him. Maybe, he thought, Jesus was just a great prophet and not the one who was to lead Israel out of Roman bondage.

This was a major problem Judas had with Him. He was extremely confused when Jesus rejected the offer from the people to make or crown Him king. A few times, he had witnessed this incident happening. Accepting the post of king, he thought, was honorable and desirable to any well-known person. Therefore, it looked as though He wanted someone else or some other group of persons, like the religious leaders, to decide this for Him before taking on this position. It appeared that, because of a rejection from them, He refused all other attempts people made to get Him to accept the post. This was not a conquering king's (or leader's) mindset, Judas thought. (The mindset should be to dominate, take charge, direct, command, control, dictate, etc. Also, to teach his followers war: Judges 3:2)

A serious difficulty that piled on Judas' already overbearing state of confusion, causing reasonable doubts about Jesus, was when he heard and witnessed that even the "prophet" John the Baptist, who introduced Him earlier as "the Lamb of God which taketh away the sin of the world," had doubts about whether Jesus was indeed the conquering king who was supposed to come or expect someone else. This added to Judas' disillusionment. (Matt. 11:2-3, Luke 7:19-20)

Little did Judas fully understand (and at that time, all Jews, including John the Baptist [Luke 7:18-24] and the other disciples) what Jesus really came to the earth to do. Old Testament Scripture showed (and provided many verses) where He was coming as a conquering king. This was what Judas and everyone else were thinking. But as we read the New Testament (which was then, not yet available to them), we discovered that He indeed came to conquer. But, first and foremost, He came to conquer sin, then death. Afterward, His enemies, all of them, before reigning as a conquering king of the earth. He came to die first, to shed His blood for the remission of sins: to pay our sin debt, and afterward, to conquer death by dying and rising from the dead...

More on this in the document called: "What would have happened if Jesus Christ didn't die?" found at www.apublicviewing.com.

These and several other problems were "eating away" at Judas as he argued with himself. His entire purpose for following Jesus began crumbling. (He was now mentally regretting his pretended, aggressively humble behavior that he believed caused him to be selected as a disciple.) Firstly (as mentioned earlier and as Judas continued pondering the matter), Jesus may be just a great prophet and a miracle worker, but not the conquering messiah or king who was supposed to come and free Israel according to scripture. Perhaps, there was someone else coming to do that, he thought. Hence, Jesus was not really the one he should be following.

Furthermore, most of Jesus' inner circle of men selected were uneducated fishermen and a "no-brain" publican, he thought. (Acts 4:13) None of them went to college, neither pursued higher academic learning. Therefore, they were not properly capable of managing a ministry of any government.

Another problem Judas had with Jesus was that He was training them to be preachers and teachers, perhaps to take up positions in synagogues, but not leaders to conquer nations and control the people. He was not teaching them weaponry or how to be battlefield smart; neither was He teaching them how to fight or survive. Even though Moses did neither of them as well, he was always in Pharaoh's presence, demanding that he let the people of God go or suffer the consequences. Jesus was not doing anything to show signs that the Romans must immediately release the children of Israel from "enslavement." (This truly, also had Lucifer confused.)

Judas became very disappointed and confused (even though God the Father instructed His Son to select him [John 6:64]). His original intention, he considered, for joining the group was all falling apart. The miraculous activities performed by Jesus were no longer exciting to him. He had miscalculated what may have happened or the direction Jesus may have taken. (His purpose for wanting to follow Jesus was wrong from the start.)

Each time he collected donations from his contacts, the questions put forward were always, 'When would Jesus begin to make His move? We are all ready.' Judas embarrassingly kept his inner circle secrets to himself and always told them that they should be patient.

To make matters worse, he was "sick and tired" of how Jesus and the other disciples were eating. For some strange reason, "...he that gathered much had nothing over, and he that gathered little had no lack..." (Exodus 16:18) He missed the big, delicious meals he was accustomed to eating when he was in the business world, accumulating wealth with Godfrey. All the sweet desserts and lavish meals were now hunting his lustful appetite; watching others eat like kings and queens was too much for him to resist. As a result, every opportunity he had when the group visited surrounding villages and communities, he would secretly slip away as though he had an errand to make to collect donated funds, then hoggishly feast on some of the tasty meals he so desperately missed. Trying to maintain the group's eating habits had become too painful for him.

In Judas' mind, all of the miracles were now of no significance. The companies he worked so hard to build in the past were losing revenue because of them; his financial investment world was about to collapse. "For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also" is true, but it is a fallen race, way of life, as he reasoned within himself after Jesus made the statement. (Matthew 6:21)

Also, worst of all, the leaders of the people hated Him and wanted nothing to do with Him. (This was because they all did not look at the overall scriptural picture of things, only on their very own pockets and lavish lifestyles.) The poor were extremely excited about what Jesus was doing. The rich and wealthy were devastated because their wealthy lifestyles were disappearing.

As Judas thought to himself, Jesus could not go anywhere without these men. Jesus needed to work with them in order to make any progress toward becoming king of the Jews. But occasionally, during His travels to the different cities and towns, in the presence of His disciples, He kept calling them hypocrites, and many times, saying it publicly. Judas did not believe they were all hypocrites because he personally knew some of them. He began mentally and silently questioning some of Jesus' views.

Judas trusted these men (the leaders of the people) wholeheartedly and were corporate partners, working alongside some of them in the past. (He was a co-sponsor with some of their business operations.) The religious leaders were the "finest" of all the men in Israel, he thought. They were very religious, pious, and professional: men of renown and excellent integrity who followed Moses' law (he blindly believed they did) and cared about the people. They cared about their welfare and did many wonderful things for them. (Judas, however, did not know their dark side. If anyone or a group of persons threatened their positions and place of control over the people, their deaths would have been secretly ordered by them.)

In addition to these problems that added fuel to Judas' frustrations was his business investments; they were all failing. The stress and pressure it placed on Judas' mind added to his depression. The wealth he amassed earlier in life began slowly drying up. Godfrey informed him of the problems that were threatening all their investments, and they were caused by all the healing and miracles Jesus was doing. This caused Judas to begin "borrowing" with the intention of paying back funds from the donations that came in from people and his business contacts. This he did without informing Jesus or any of the other disciples.

The continuous "borrowing" turned into stealing just to provide Godfrey with the necessary funds to sell off or save failing investments. At first, he had promised himself that he was going to replace or return the amount taken, but because his business losses were increasing, he kept taking to help save them. (John 12:6) In Judas' opinion, Jesus was causing the economic disruption, and therefore, taking funds from their savings was wrong, but in one sense, justifiable. This was because of his marketing skills (as he rationalized within himself) he was responsible for most of the donations that came in anyway. Also, besides this, in the early stages of Jesus' ministry, when Judas' businesses were flourishing, he donated lots of money to the group. For these reasons, he believed Jesus might go easy on him if funds were discovered to go missing.

Judas was a business and professional beggar who persuaded many successful merchants to contribute to Jesus' ministry. Sometime after his investments began failing, he started thinking that if he had focused and worked full-time with his companies, he may have been able to help Godfrey save some of them by trading and redirecting investments in other areas not affected by what Jesus was doing. He thought of leaving the group for a while before returning, but he was not sure this was a good idea. Circumstances (Jesus' messianic journey) may shift or turn around, and if this happened, he wanted to be present and in good standing.

A very difficult and frightening challenge for Judas was when Jesus visited the poor, the outcasts, and the lepers. (Visits to and from lepers were always frightening in Judas' mind and especially when they came to Jesus: 'What if I caught the disease and Jesus was not around?' he thought.) These visits to and from these people were, unfortunately, all below him. He did not like how low he had to go to pretend to look very humbly, accommodating. Some of them were very stink. In his mind, he could never get used to these visits. He tactfully avoided touching, handshaking, or hugging those who were healed, even though he saw that the miraculous healing came with cleansing as well. He avoided all physical contact with them as best as he could without anyone noticing. (When Jesus healed someone whose clothing was filthy, dirty, and stink, somehow, the odor and dirt disappeared, and the person appeared thoroughly clean outwardly and inwardly.)

Judas had never trained himself to step down this low. It was not what he originally set out in life to do. He was a financier and had aspired to be involved in big business and with the big, financially wealthy boys in Israel. He was very successful in camouflaging his ambitious passion and feelings of dissatisfaction over all the things Jesus was doing. Nevertheless, shortly after three years of hiding his true feelings (all the miracles affecting Israel's economy and his business enterprises), his disgusted feelings began to show on his face...

The entire Jewish community began feeling the economic impact caused by everything Jesus was doing. It was quite an economic "disaster" that was growing: a financial disaster for those who were mainly sucking and controlling the people to accumulate wealth. Nevertheless, this called for many secret emergency meetings among the top leaders and business professionals in Jerusalem...

Israel's failing economy caused by all the miracles Jesus was doing and the message He was proclaiming!

Judas Iscariot was not the only one experiencing a significant loss of revenue because of all the miracles Jesus was performing (from his business investments made before following Him). Many others were experiencing the same as well. The physicians and the undertakers (body-preparers and gravediggers) were the first ones feeling the downturn in income, and it all trickled down, affecting many other businesspersons. Everyone (businesses and personal enterprises) that shared in the profits from proceeds earned was beginning to experience losses. Their employees started looking for other jobs because Jesus was healing so many people, and it was all for free.

Multitudes of people flocked to Jesus for healing. This was so serious that it began affecting the entire nation of Israel's buying and selling economic system. Many businesses failed because people were no longer going to them, but instead to Jesus for complete healing, even if it meant many days of traveling.

Additionally, many who were healed and were once business professionals, reentered the business marketplace, creating crowded competition in a failing economy.

People also found out that taking their sick loved ones to Jesus was no longer necessary. The only requirement was that a family member or friend who was in excellent health, make the journey and request Jesus to heal the person. The healing was done instantly and over great distances. This created far-reaching business losses in the taxi industry (animal rental and travel services).

Deaths drastically declined to almost zero, and visits to or from doctors had ended. There were hardly any more deaths occurring because people were healed from sickness and terminal diseases. People got their healing at no charge. No money was required; just a sincere, legitimate need was all that was necessary. This brought about a death blow to the livelihoods of persons and businesses that relied heavily on the sick and the dead. Many of them, with nothing else to depend on or turn to, went out of business (or bankrupt).

Caregivers and caretaking inns (hospitals) revenue fell to zero, and owners, operators, and staff members were all out of work. Unemployment began rising in Israel. The markets all felt the reduction in earnings, all because of the healing Jesus was doing, and it was free. It created an off-balance buying and selling crisis in Israel.

Business professionals eventually began seriously complaining to the leaders and elders of the people about this. This was not for Jesus to start charging a fee for the healing to maintain the economic buying and selling balance (because this would have caused Him to monopolize the market and instantly become very wealthy, making all the money), but for Him to "stop healing people, completely!"

(Read, Matthew 8:16, 9:35, 12:15, 14:14, along with verses 35-36, 15:30-31, 19:1-2, 21:14; Mark 1:32-34, as well as verses 45, 6:13, 6:55-56; Luke 4:40-41, 5:15, 6:17-19, 7:21-22, 9:6, including verse 11; John 2:23 and 21:25.)

Old age ailments were also healed, causing sufferers not to seek alternative healing remedies from herbalists. The economic trickle effects were happening in every sector and city of Israel. (For example, Granny Miriam got complete healing of old age ailments from Jesus. As a result, her greedy grandsons could no longer get the inherited fortune owned by her and her late husband. Their purchase plans for several lavish homes had to be scrapped. They were waiting too long for her demise, and not very happy with her healing and what Jesus caused.)

Many such healings, like this one, occurred throughout Israel, causing great contention among covetous family members. They hated Jesus for what He was doing. "All of this healing," they grumbled. Old disgusting and miserable employers and parents whose hateful dependents were patiently waiting for the joy of seeing them dead, return to their place, youthfully rejuvenated with the looks of apparent years of more energy to continue doing what they did. Professionals, who had an evil exploitation motive for accumulating wealth, felt the impact of Jesus' healing. Many of these disgruntled individuals complained to the authorities about this and the damage it was causing to their livelihoods and jobs. The leaders were bombarded with such annoyance from the people.

The smiths, silversmiths, carpenters, and craftsmen lost huge amounts of revenue all because of Jesus' message and promotion of His Father. (Most of the people had vowed to themselves that the one who can heal their serious illness, they will worship that person or that person's God. Many of them were lepers, the blind, deaf, lame, maimed, victims of devils, the sick; their family members, friends, the healing eye-witnessing bystanders, etc.)

Therefore, people who brought shrines and images of idols, began believing in and worshipping Jesus and His Father as God. As a result, piles of images were destroyed and burned leaving merchants with loads of unsold inventory. They were hopelessly dismayed and angry, like Demetrius in Acts 19:24-28, because of the big financial losses to their business.

In addition to all of this, soothsaying businesses that brought in lots of profits, like the one mentioned in Acts 16:16, closed down. Soothsaying and selling idol images and relics were "big business" and brought in lots of money until Jesus came on the scene (or in town) with His miracles and message. Jesus promoted His Father as God, and their business sales operation plummeted. It sharply declined or "nose-dived," so to speak.

Many demons were cast out of persons, causing soothsayers, fortune-telling merchants, etc., and their businesses to come to a sudden halt. Lucifer's demonic strongholds among the people were seriously being dismantled; rapidly putting an end to it all. His kingdom was coming to an end because of what Jesus was doing. (Besides this, because of what Zechariah 13:2-4 said, Satan, knowing Old Testament scripture, was very much afraid of this happening.)

The economic blow to the entire nation of Israel was seriously felt by many similar stories, like the ones just mentioned above.

Nevertheless, at the time, little was known that all of this disruption of the natural commercial flow of things being seriously altered because of what Jesus was doing, was just simply the preparation and transformation of the old buying and selling economic system to one that was new, different, and conducive for a perfect king to rule in a sinful world. (Isaiah 40:3-5; Luke 3:4-6)

For more on this, read the section called: "Imagine, a perfect king ruling in a sinful world," found in the document called, "What Would Have Happened If Jesus Christ Didn't Die?" at: www.apublicviewing.com

A powerful miracle that was about to cause the entire money-making economic system in Israel to collapse - FOUR -

"The great and dreadful day of the Lord" in Malachi 4:5, was now falling into place. The preparation and transformation to a pure and ideal law-abiding economic system for Jesus (a perfect king to rule in a sinful world) to begin His reign were now coming together. (Luke 3:5-6; Isaiah 40:3-5)

When Jesus raised Lazarus from the dead, the thoughts in the minds of the people erupted. (John 11:1-45) All of their loved ones could also be raise from the dead by Jesus. This phenomenon or miracle spread instantly and mightily among the people. This became "big talk" everywhere. The news spread "lightning fast." It also spread outside to other nations; foreigners became electrified. (Satan had to quickly make his move or lose thousands of years of work.)

There were/are two main enemies of mankind called, "old age" and "death." People needed answers and victory over them, and Jesus conquered both. He was healing the people of old age ailments. Their bodies were transformed and rejuvenated; even their strength returned, and their active minds were restored. (Matthew 4:23, 9:35, 10:1; John 5:4)

Raising Lazarus from the dead was different from other identical miracles done by Jesus. The others were questionable, but raising Lazarus was not. There were questionable theories with the others because, in the minds of the many elders and leaders of the people, those persons may not have actually been dead. But Lazarus was well known in Bethany and Jerusalem. Almost everyone in both places knew or heard of him and that he had died and was buried.

With Lazarus, however, there were no questionable thoughts. He was dead, wrapped up in grave clothes, sealed in a tomb (in the grave) for four days, and by then, "he stinketh." (John 11:39) Many in Bethany and Jerusalem attended his funeral service and procession. They witnessed his final moments and communicated the entire funeral procession to others not in attendance. Now, several days later, to be told that Jesus had raised him from the dead was shocking. Also, to see him again on his job doing his usual routine work in Bethany and Jerusalem was disturbingly frightening.

Nevertheless, Lazarus and the others mentioned in the scriptures were exceptions to Hebrew 9:27; above all, "...but for the glory of God, that the Son of God might be glorified thereby." (John 11:4) door. He restlessly got out of bed (from a painfully difficult day) to see who his desperate night guests were. When his door was unlocked, it burst open with force by soldiers who were outside. They stormed into his home, violently arrested him, and quickly took him away. By the time Mary and Martha readied themselves to see who their loud and night visitors were, the soldiers had already taken their brother away, and they never saw him again.

The soldiers took Lazarus to an isolated area, stripped him of his clothes, stabbed him in the chest, (piercing his heart), and then beheaded him. His naked body was thrown over a very steep cliff, and the head was taken to another location and thrown among garbage piles where lots of wild animals frequently visit. His clothes were taken to another location.

Lazarus had caused many to believe on Jesus because he was well known in Bethany and Jerusalem. Many Jews attended his funeral and burial procession. As a result, the chief priests and leaders of the people ordered his death by instructing the soldiers to kill him and make certain his body was never found.

¹The above story is not found in Scripture, but mysteriously came to mind as this section was being written.

Because of Lazarus, multitudes flock to Jerusalem to see this great miracle worker; to place their garments and branches of palm trees in the way as He rode through Jerusalem on a donkey. All of them were thinking of what He could do for them, their loved ones (all those who have passed away in death), and the country. Also, they were convinced because they have heard and seen enough. They came to crown Jesus King, even if it meant doing it by force, hoping He would accept the widespread wishes of the people.

However, when they wanted to and therefore came to proceed with doing it, circumstances shifted. Their intentions and purpose for coming to Jerusalem were crushed and shattered. Many of them did not like what Jesus did afterward. He went into the temple, tossed away the money that was made, kicked over many tables and chairs, whipped all of the

What happened to Lazarus Whom Jesus Raised From the Dead?

¹That night, following the day Jesus died, there was a loud banging on Lazarus' merchants who sold their goods and livestock in the temple, and had to pass Him to get out of the way. Some of them were the elders and leaders of the people. Jesus rebuked all of them who sold in the temple, and before walking away, He said, “It is written, My house shall be called the house of prayer; but ye have made it a den of thieves.” (Matt. 21:13) ‘What; they were thieves?’ the people thought! The elders and leaders who were whipped were greatly ashamed and embarrassed. (Matthew 21:12-13, 23:1-39; Mark 11:15-17; Luke 19:41-46; John 2:13-16)

The people were then confused as to whether this was the right time to make Him king. They held these men up as the most religious and pious of the day, and believed that they were closer to God than anyone else they knew. In their minds, after this incident, many of them (the religious leaders) will not bless or endorse it to be so.

One of the merchant booths was owned by Judas Iscariot and Godfrey (his business partner). It was one of their last pieces of money-making operations. Many of the people thought to themselves: ‘Is this the miracle worker who is now beating up the people, some of whom were the religious leaders?’ Everyone knew that most of the merchant booths in the temple were owned exclusively by them (the religious leaders). Confusion began to set in, and they turned away with disillusionment.

Many of the persons present (including Judas, because he had never seen this side of Jesus) were very confused and angry. They saw nothing wrong with what the merchants were doing in the temple. (However, besides all of what was happening, in Lucifer’s mind and in the minds of the chief priests and all the leaders of the people, this madness had to be stopped.)

The Leaders of the People Secret Meeting

¹Many of the merchant stalls in the temple were owned by religious leaders. Persons had to obtain a permit from these leaders and were issued “approval certificates” before they were allowed to sell there. Those permits issued had to be maintained by paying a percentage of the sales and profits made. Also, sadly, several of these leaders were overcharging (or ripping off) the contracted merchants when the opportunities arose. As a result, widespread theft occurred during business hours. (Matt. 21:13)

One of those persons who was overcharging (or taking advantage of merchants and ripping them off) and got whipped was the speaker at this secretly called leadership meeting. Before the meeting began, he confided in one of his close colleagues about the incident at the temple and said, “...That whip was very painful across my back. I was so embarrassed and so humiliated. I swear to God that... young... will get that back. How dare he whip a senior person almost twice his age, and in front of so many people? I swear he’ll get that back. I will deal with that...”

As a result of what Jesus did to their business operation in the temple, the leaders of the people called a very urgent and important meeting. In this meeting, the speaker got up and addressed members in attendance and said, “The economic assault we are now faced with was caused by one young man, and it all happened in such a short period of time: just over 3 years, to be exact. Imagine what would happen and what the conditions our country would be like in the next 3 years? Everything will change: our culture, our livelihood, the way we worship, our place, and the way we do business.” (Lucifer was behind the scene thinking the very same thoughts and streaming these thoughts through to the speaker. In his mind, he imagined Jesus around for another three and a half [3-1/2] years and the damage that would be done to his kingdom. All his former years of accomplishments, gone! Jesus would destroy them all. Seven was the number of completion; therefore, he had to act quickly or possibly face an irreversible and unrepairable destruction to his realm on the seventh year.)

The speaker continued, “All of our years of investments in education, the corporate world, in our homes (they were extravagant), in our future, close family members and friends, all were on the border of failing. Everything gone! If we allowed him to continue his mission, we all here would become poverty-stricken. We all would be out of jobs, and therefore, we need action, and we need it now!

Jesus is not leaving Israel; he visits back and forth between each of the countries and their communities. If he had left Israel completely, then our troubles would be minimal for a time, long enough for us to restructure and prepare for his return. However, this was not happening. It was obvious, his mission was to convert our people, and it is working because of all the miracles that are performed daily. Never in our nation's history have we had this magnitude of an economic challenge. He must be stopped. He must die for the good of our land. We must kill him, and his death must be done quickly. You all know we had invited him to speak to us several days ago, and he almost totally obliterated our self-esteem. We were all ashamed, humiliated, and greatly insulted. (Matthew 23, Luke 11)

Remember our decision from the last meeting? We had decided to invite him to Thomas, the treasurer's place, along with all the prominent people in the country. (Luke 11:37) What did we do that for? It caused rage and total madness! There, we were all convinced, he had to be stopped and destroyed!"

(Little did they know Jesus perceived all of their motives for having Him at this special gathering. He was told about it by His Father. He, knowing their thoughts and purpose, began speaking to them. He said: "...woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For ye shut up the kingdom of heaven against men: for ye neither go in yourselves, neither suffer ye them that are entering to in. Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites...Woe unto you, ye blind guides...Ye fools and blind...Thou blind Pharisee...Woe unto you...hypocrites...Ye serpents, ye generation of vipers, how can ye escape the damnation of hell?" [Matthew 23:13-33] Repeating Himself at this function as well, He continued, saying, "Woe unto you...ye lawyers! For ye lade men with burdens grievous to be borne, and ye yourselves touch not the burdens with one of your fingers. Woe unto you, lawyers! For ye have taken away the key of knowledge: ye entered not in yourselves, and them that were entering in ye hindered.*" [Luke 11:37-54]

Immediately after Jesus exposed them, blasted them out, and wittingly answered their trick questions, knowing their rage, He thanked them for the invitation, walked away, and left in haste.)

The speaker confessed that "these insults burned deep within, causing many of us much pain, humiliation, and sleepless nights. We now understand exactly what he intends to do first to us and then to the entire nation of Israel. All of us in attendance were in an extreme rage, but for the sake of proper leadership form, we left all deliberations for this private meeting..."

After an official vote to have him killed was taken (one was taken earlier, but some of the leaders were not present), the speaker announced the results and said, "The verdict before this emergency meeting is, kill him! Many of you told me that 'we cannot have this trash living among us.' The history of our kings was that they killed, destroyed, and conquered to maintain their hold and positions. They built an army to achieve their goals and dominance. But this young, unschooled boy can't even kill a fly." (The joke among the leaders was that the only thing he was able to kill was trees. They said this because he was known to be a skillful carpenter, not because he cursed a fig tree earlier by simply speaking to it. To be a carpenter, one would have to cut down many trees.)

In the speaker's rage, he said: "Now, what was Jesus doing to build his conquering army to become king? He surrounded himself with a bunch of worthless, untrained idiots: dirty, stinking fishermen and that creepy publican thief (he referred to an unproven trivial transaction Matthew [Matt. 9:9] did in the past), all of whom have absolutely no knowledge of how to rule even their own homes. Judas was the only educated financier with sense in his head, but got carried away with trying to be someone, thinking that Jesus might someday be the king of our nation and afterward, the world. This, he thought, would result from all the miracles that were being performed. My source informed me that Judas thought if he was selected as a follower, he would someday be the finance man in charge of our nation and later, the world's economy.

Someone needed to pull Judas aside and put some sense in his head. With the great financial talents he possessed, he was brainwashed by Jesus' teachings. Jesus is going nowhere as a conquering king, and we need to get Judas to wake up. Does any of you men want a bunch of preaching fishermen ruling over you with a young 'economy-buster-boy' controlling? I certainly don't, and I definitely know all of you don't as well.

If Jesus raised my 'ma' from the grave, I would still not have him to rule over me." (Little did he know those words echoed throughout the universe when he stood before Jesus to be judged. Also, twenty-five years later, on his death bed after spending a fortune on an incurable disease that had left him paralyzed and in constant intense pain, he choked up difficult words he never thought he would have said, which were: "If Jesus was here, He would and could have cured me." He never thought he would come to this. His memory of what he co-conspired to do to Jesus tore him up, and he cried like a baby a few days before he passed away in death.)

The speaker's address continued: "If all of us, including all of our nation's leaders, are not on board with Jesus' teaching and mission, then he will fail in trying to become king. The people do not have the power; we do! Therefore, we need to protect them from his false teachings. We see exactly what he is trying to do and how he is going about to do it: turn the people against us. We will not have this! He must die! We must kill him before it is too late to do so and lose our place. (John 11:48) He should have consulted us first and brought us in on his mission. If we do not act now, we then will not be able to stop him later. Look at the major problems we are now faced with because of Lazarus rising from the dead..."

They all then agreed that Jesus needed to be very quietly and discreetly captured. The speaker revealed that he had a close contact who may be interested in doing the job for them, but the price must be very attractive. (Thirty pieces of silver to capture Jesus was a large amount of money at that time for this type of job, and they all agreed to it.)

Godfrey, Judas' business partner, they thought, was the man chosen to persuade Judas to betray Jesus and inform them of his regular hangout. Also, they mentioned that Judas Iscariot was still enrolled in the fraternal brotherhood and occasionally attended secret meetings when he was in town. (For this and other reasons, Satan began to put his plans in motion.)

¹The above meeting was taken from an unpublished work called, A Breathtaking View Inside the Corporate World of God.

Later, Godfrey approached Judas and informed him of the loss if 20 pieces of silver were not raised within a few days. Many business professionals were experiencing losses because of Jesus' ministry, which was also trickling down, affecting Judas and Godfrey's business enterprises. This was why he kept stealing small amounts of money received from donations and giving it to Godfrey. Twenty pieces of silver was a lot of money, therefore, Judas got desperate. This amount of money was no longer easily available anywhere within Judas' business operations, so he became frantic.

Godfrey jokingly (but very subtly) informed him of a bounty on the head of Jesus for anyone who turned Him in without violence or any complications. The bounty in the underworld to betray Jesus was 30 pieces of silver. At that time, it was the only hope of the quick money needed to bail out one of his profitable companies from a possible takeover by a creditor and have change in his pocket.

He told Judas this was a hard decision, but if he wanted to save one of his major business investments, he should quickly consider it. There were only a few more days to make the decision.

The time to save Judas and Godfrey's remaining investments was now! There was no time to plan an explanation for Jesus and His disciples. Judas remembered clearly what Jesus said to the rich young ruler in Luke 18:22 ("...sell all that thou hast..."), which was almost impossible for him to do. What Jesus said in Luke 18:24-25 strangely echoed out loudly in Judas' mind. He certainly never intended to sell anything he and Godfrey worked so hard to build, but simply ignored what Jesus said and focused on saving their business operations.

Judas, nevertheless, thought to plan an alibi afterward if his plans were exposed, but for now, his decision was to save his company. He had to make a decision, and saving the company was more important at the time. Judas finally agreed to take the reward money to have Jesus arrested without violence.

According to Godfrey, there was no time for thinking, and he had to act quickly before someone else got the bounty. So, Judas, at nighttime, when everyone was asleep, secretly went to the chief priests to get the desperately needed funds. Also, he negotiated with the leaders to keep the meeting and scheme a "fraternal-brotherhood" secret. During the short trip back to where Jesus was, he began planning his alibi to clear his name if and when the others found out. In Judas' mind, Jesus was very forgiving and would definitely, somehow rationally understand.

Before Judas acted on his decision to betray Jesus, he knew and believed somewhat that He was the Son of God and had great powers. Also, they could not harm Him because He always got away from their evil plot of trying to capture and kill Him. (Luke 4:29-30, 22:2; John 5:18, 7:1, 19, 8:59) Furthermore, as Judas thought to himself, 'they cannot do anything to Jesus anyway. They tried several times before but mysteriously failed each time. Jesus walked right through the midst of them and went His way.' (Luke 4:30; John 8:59) He avoided arrest by the soldiers and incriminating trick questions from the high priest scholars. This was because of what He confided in His disciples by always telling them that 'His time was not yet come.'

Whatever that meant, as Judas thought to himself. (John 7:6)

As Judas continued to ponder to himself to satisfy his conscience, Jesus would again avoid any attempts to capture and contain Him. Therefore, this was quick and easy money for a double-crossing stunt. Judas was convinced that the leaders and soldiers could not touch Him even if they tried to. This is why he said to them, "...Whomsoever I shall kiss, that same is he; take him, and lead him away safely." (Mark 14:44) In Judas' mind, their plans would fail once again as before with no harm to Jesus.

Judas took the easy money and betrayed Jesus, but he was unaware of how his actions were going to all play out.

The Closing & Final Remarks

- THE CONCLUSION -

"That if thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thine heart that God hath raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved. For with the heart man believeth unto righteousness; and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation." (Romans 10:9-10)

¹The reason why we, on our own, have to audibly request and accept God's SIN-FREE arrangement gift for ourselves is because it sends a strong message to the universe that we want God's will and not our own. His very own established lawful and righteous protocol demands it to be so. By this confession, God will then miraculously create a new attitude in us; a new creation (2 Cor. 5:17), that will NEVER sin or disobey God again. (John 3:9) Thus, our evil-disobedient acts would be completely eradicated forever from His children in the new world. (Rev. 21:1)

If God had enforced this new change on humanity, it would not be just, nor fair, neither would it be the right thing to do, especially when people don't truly want this change or transformation in their lives.

Therefore, our message to God MUST audibly be strong, loud, and seriously clear so that the entire universe of witnesses can hear (Rom. 10:9-13):

Lord, I believed you died, was buried, and arose on the third day for my salvation. I want you Lord, to control my life; not me doing it myself. I surrender my life to you, not to anything or anyone else. I want you God, to guide, direct, and instruct me on my future endeavors. I want your sustaining power to KEEP me on this straight pathway, doing only what you want me to do.

By acting upon Romans 10:9-13, ALL of the above prayerful promised vows are conveyed within its message.

Since God's character demands it, by us audibly surrendering ourselves as mentioned above, He can then legally, lawfully, justly, rightfully, faithfully, and fairly clear and clean us up from ALL unrighteousness forever, in the new world without end. (Rev. 21:1)

He knew the power, strength, and pull sin had on our lives and, therefore, suffered, bled, and died to pay our sin debt. This includes ALL sinful (or evil) acts committed by the whole world. In other words, everyone, including you and me, with no exceptions. As a result, the whole world goes SIN-FREE: ALL of humanity who wanted (or want) this freedom. We originally wanted our own way, and not God's way. So then, for all of us to receive this freedom arrangement release (His Sin-Free gift) from the shackles of sin (ALL of our sinful acts from start to finish) and its penalty, we have to request and accept it for ourselves. We have to seriously request and accept it from God to have it work for us.

Yes! God allowed all sinners and their evil acts, including you and me, to go SIN-FREE. He forgave everyone, with no eternal penalties. But, as mentioned earlier, it too would NOT be just, neither would it be fair to give someone something they don't truly want. (Matt. 7:9-11, Luke 11:11-13) For this reason, we have to seriously ask for it if we truly want it. We have to seriously seek for it to truly find it. We have to seriously request it from God to have it work for us. (Mat. 7:7; Luke 11:9-10) How else then could a lawfully just, rightfully faithful, and absolutely blameless person (with a righteously perfect balance), fix our problem if we truly didn't want it to be fixed?

¹If you want Me to be Lord of your life, I will forgive you forever. Accepting My SIN-FREE Arrangement gift means that you put Me in full control of your life even though sin is NOW still present. (Rom. 3:23; 1 John 1:8) But, because you want Me to be Lord of your life, My forgiveness to you will last forever. Therefore, your eternal transformation in the new Heaven and earth (Rev. 21:1), when I eradicate evil, will last forever.

¹These final remarks came while sleeping in bed. This writer immediately awoke in the night, rushed for a pen and paper, and then quickly wrote them down before returning to bed and going back to sleep.

The Pardon Agreement

²...This agreement is not something you can work for. It cannot be earned by what you do. This agreement cannot be purchased or paid for: I paid it already. This Pardon Agreement is FREE for the asking. "Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you: For every one that asketh receiveth; and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh it shall be opened.” (Matthew 7:7, Luke 11:9-10)

My Pardon Agreement is a “NOW!” contract or covenant deal between both of us: Me and you! It cannot wait until you perform a self-cleaning exercise. If you try doing that first before accepting My Pardon Agreement, you WILL never pull it off. Remember that you are fighting powerful evil forces who know how to break you apart and destroy every effort you make trying to get close to Me. For this reason, I will do the self-cleaning for you. I want you to come to Me just the way you are and let Me do your self-cleaning exercise. *“Come now, and let us reason together...though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow; though they be red like crimson, they shall be as wool.” (Isaiah 1:18) “...behold, now is the accepted time; now is the day of salvation.” (2 Corinthians 6:2) “...To day if ye will hear...harden not your hearts...” (Hebrews 3:15) *Boast not thyself of to morrow; for thou knowest not what a day may bring forth. (Proverbs 27:1)

I love you so much (John 3:16) and want you to want Me. I am determined to go to great lengths to get you, if you really want Me. Because of your sins, you have to come to Me on your own free will. I will not make you come, even though I desperately want to. Please come to Me. I tearfully and passionately want you to come! To show you how desperate I want you, I am willing to change your desires (your will). Just ask Me to do it, and I will give you the desire to want Me so that you can come to Me. Many people claim that God cannot be desperate. If I wasn't, I would not have gone to Calvary for you. I am desperate for you and desperately want you to want Me. Please come! Come so that I can start and complete The Pardon Agreement process for you. “Come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon you, and learn of me; for I am meek and lowly in heart: and ye shall find rest unto you souls. For my yoke is easy, and my burden is light.” (Matthew 11:28-30)

I just want you to also know upfront that I am a jealous God; so much so until My name is Jealous. (Ex. 20:5, 34:14) It is a part of My nature or character that cannot be changed or altered, and therefore, you must accept this fact when approaching Me...

²The “...Pardon Agreement” above was not written from a vision, a dream, neither was it direct instructions from God. But it mysteriously came to mind as this section was being written.

What then must we do to be saved?

If you want God in your life, repeat either prayer below. Say either one from your mouth and let it come from your heart (modify it if you wish without changing the message). Keep in mind that God can hear you loud and clear, and He remembers your prayer(s) and will remember them when you stand before Him.

THE PRAYER I

God, I do not know how to talk to you. I have neglected for years to read your Word, to visit your place of worship, or even say a word or two in prayer to you. As a result, I do not know where to start so that I can have a relationship with you. LORD, forgive me for my foolish failures. LORD, please come into my life and save my sinful soul. I really desperately want a relationship with you and want it to blossom into something serious. LORD, please grant me this request for a serious relationship with you. Please, I beg you, LORD!

THE PRAYER II

LORD, I don't deserve to come before you with all of my wicked pleasures of this world. They are so sweet LORD! LORD, I developed a love and passion for the way I am presently living; enjoying all the worldly pleasures that life offers. But LORD, deep down inside of me, I want you! I want you, LORD! But the worldly pleasures have imprisoned me. LORD, you are a jealous God, and you refuse anyone who puts worldly pleasures and lust before you. LORD, I don't have the mental capacity, the mental strength, and the needed knowledge tailored toward fixing my problem; to help me break free from it. LORD, I really want you! LORD, I really need you! LORD, I really love you! Please help me, dear God, to reverse my lustful worldly desires by putting you first instead of putting them first so that I can request your presence in my life. Please, dear LORD, I beg you to help me to passionately want you! LORD, have mercy on me! Please, LORD, help me!

After praying and believing these prayers, then again, repeat the prayer below. Say it from your mouth (into the atmosphere) and let it come from your heart (modify it if you wish without changing the message). Remember that if you love someone or want that person, you will try desperately to get that person's attention and to learn and do whatever that person says and loves.

Faith: mountain moving faith," found at: www.apublicviewing.com.

THE PRAYER III

LORD, I have asked you to come into my life and, without a doubt, believed that you did. LORD, I have this problem with absolutely no strength to conquer it. LORD, I need your strength and power for victory over this sin. LORD, if you do not provide the miracle I need, you very well know that I WILL fall flat on my face with this sin. LORD, please help me! I beg you, LORD, PLEASE HELP ME! LORD, HAVE MERCY ON ME! Please, LORD, have mercy on my sinful soul! I BEG YOU, LORD! PLEASE!

Praise GOD Almighty!

What happens when someone is born again?

The Old Testament Ten Commandment Laws were fulfilled (repackaged and renamed) in the New Testament's One Commandment Law, which says: "Ye MUST be BORN AGAIN!" (John 3:7) So then, why obedience to these laws is no longer required when the individual is born-again? The answer is that when a true, new-birth experience (born-again) occurs, several things happen. One is: "God Possession!" (John 14:16-17, 26; 1 Cor. 3:16, 6:19-20; 2 Tim 1:14) The person becomes GOD POSSESSED! As a result, the person began radiating the fruit of the Holy Spirit, which "...is love, joy, peace, longsuffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, meekness, temperance: against such there is no law." (Galatians 5:22-23)

Like "demon possession," where the evil spirit causes victims to uncontrollably do things against their will, the opposite is true with the Christian, where "God possession" causes the believer to automatically radiate all the fruit of God's indwelling Holy Spirit and at the same time allow them (God possessed believers) their own free will.

A demon whose stronghold is lust, his victim will radiate an uncontrollable lustful behavior. If the demon's stronghold is lying, his victim will become a compulsive liar. The same is true with theft, adultery, fornication, ¹homosexuality, murder, disobedience, etc. On the other hand, if the fruit of God's Spirit is love, joy, peace, longsuffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, meekness, and temperance (Galatians 5:22-23), after God's possession (after conversion or the new birth: born-again), the born-again believer will radiate these attributes of God's Holy Spirit, which is why 2 Corinthians 5:17 said what it did. ("Therefore if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new.") If you (or someone you know) do not display these qualities of God's Spirit, then God is not living inside. There is/was no new birth: born-again. Examine yourself!

Ephesians 5:9 says: "For the fruit of the Spirit is in ALL goodness and righteousness and truth." What does this verse mean? What do "in all goodness," "in all righteousness," and "in all truth," mean? Certainly, it DID NOT say, nor did it mean, "in all things that are." It said, in all goodness, righteousness, and truth. This simply meant that because the fruit of the Spirit is EVERYTHING, or ALL (no more and no less) that is good, ALL that is righteous, and ALL that is truth, there is really no need for anything else. Once you internally have the fruit of the Spirit, you have ALL the GOODNESS, ALL the RIGHTEOUSNESS, AND ALL the TRUTH you will ever need. Everything inclusive! Everything you need! No need for anything else! No further need for any external laws. All that is needed (for salvation) is now built-in. (Jeremiah 31:31-34; Hebrews 8:7-13)

¹Homosexuality (also, other perverted sexual sins too gross to mention here), a very unclean kind of sin, was designed by Lucifer as one of the components used to help destroy God's creation. God commanded humanity to "Be fruitful, and multiply, and replenish the earth..." (Gen. 1:28) Two men cannot achieve this (to create a new life or a new birth), and neither can two women. They would have to adopt; but adopt from where if everyone embraces this unnatural, evil, and sinful lifestyle? Eventually, there will no longer be any human births or new life; hence, wiping out humanity. This was why God destroyed this demonically contagious sin early in Scripture. Demons very quietly, subtly, and less forcefully enter or possess a female body through diverse human admissions, learn her ways, and then walk into a male body and very wickedly force female tendencies upon him. The reverse is true with the male to female. This is an extreme stronghold, enslavement kind of sin that requires serious prayers and fasting from victims seeking deliverance.

The Irony of Judas Being Among the Twelve

This is an indication (the probability) that all Christian enterprises that require people, Judas or a Judas spirit is always present, among or in their midst. None of their projects are exempted; everything a sinful race puts their hands to do for God, Lucifer and his wicked angels attack all.

They (the Judas or the Judas spirit) are very stealthy and camouflaged, deep within the mission administration. Many of them know, but yet some are unaware of themselves to be Judas or operating with a Judas spirit. This is because they display self-righteous behaviors; everyone is below them, and everyone else is always wrong. They have all the answers (Proverbs 14:12); they create problems when there are none. They love drama and stir up one when there is none. They know Bible verses and can quote them very well. They appear to know the thoughts of others many times, as though secrets are revealed to them, not knowing that demons are revealing the other person's agenda. (Many carnal Christians are carried away because of this common stunt.) Like professional lawyers, they are smart, subtle, and can master the communication language.

As the irony of Lucifer plunging the world into sin, who was then used as a puppet to cause and administer the suffering of Christ (that ultimately reversed the situation which saved it), Judas' spirit presence many times "short circuited" and reversed damages done that ultimately enhanced and worked in God's favor to bring out the best for His honor and glory.

If Judas was not among the twelve, most of God's work on earth afterward might have been successfully attacked due to the lack of knowledge relating to Lucifer's subtle destructive tactics. As a result of Judas' presence among the twelve, seasoned Christians are wide awake and aware of this possibility. They are cautious and careful about some of the person(s) who surround them. This is even when there is nothing to be cautious and careful about. "Be careful for nothing; but in every thing by prayer and supplication...let your requests be made known unto God." (Philippians 4:6) Be careful! Judas, or the Judas' spirit, is dangerously present among us all, in books, music, plays, movies, games, colleagues, organization associates, etc. Again, I say be careful!!

Satan is subtle. He is intellectually smart. His human slaves are claiming to convert to Christianity using churchgoing language and romantic prayers for calling on God, but they are far from true conversion. This stunt has deceived and is deceiving many, causing them to continue their sinful acts. They still do what they love doing by displaying fake churchgoing stunts (performance and language) to cover-up their evil deeds; hence, deceiving many and even themselves. (2 Tim. 3:13; James 1:22) We all hear them. They are our uninvited guests in our homes. We hear them while shopping at many stores, and almost everywhere we go, we hear them communicating their message to us in a form of godliness, but personally denying the power thereof. (2 Tim. 3:5)

The Big - INSPIRATIONAL - Surprise!

A close female friend on earth who was greatly admired and respected because of her devotion to God, His church, her children, her friends, and her very unfaithful, ungrateful, and abusive husband. No one could understand how on earth she could earnestly pray for his salvation (many in her church sometimes joined her as well) so that her "hell" on earth with him would turn around and become more meaningful and fulfilling. During her lifetime, God did not answer her prayers (the way she wanted it answered), but just before his death, he trusted Christ as his Savior and LORD.

When she stood before God, she said that after going through the Judgment Seat of Christ, at the end of it all, she reverently and very humbly asked God a very sobering question that God seemed not to have addressed during His judicial time with her. This was a very interesting oversight by God, she thought, but she was very desperate for an answer from Him.

What she did not know was that God intentionally ignored the stream of prayers that came up to heaven from her and her church family. God knew her heart and that she was hesitating on leaving until she heard from Him on why He refused her many prayers, which were bathed in tears. Apparently, God had not said anything about the brutal abuse from her husband. For so many years, it did not come up at all before Him. With tears, she was very curious about God's complete silence on the matter.

She then built up the courage (in her "weak" state, but the courageous strength actually came from God) to ask God her ultimate question. It went something like this: "LORD, God! My wonderful and precious Savior, I thank you for the grace you bestowed on me and for your precious blood you shed for me. LORD! I prayed and prayed, (your records doubtlessly show) over and repeatedly for my husband to get saved and that you fix his stubborn and rebellious attitude toward you and all the very painful things he did to me. LORD, I begged you with all my heart and strength, and the many days of painfully crying to you about the matter. Somehow, you brought me comfort but did not save him until long after my death. You had said in your words, ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you. (Matt. 7:7) I thank you LORD, because all of it made me stronger and more obedient to you, even though I did not understand it all.”

She ended her very subtle question there without actually asking God, “Why?” However, our wise God knew what she was asking, and as she was speaking, there was a wonderful smile on His face. As she was talking, she did not understand why He was smiling. God’s smiling helped the words to come out smoothly and more meaningfully, but it was somewhat mysterious. The smile from God became very noticeable when her comments were completed, but she humbly waited for a response from Him.

God smilingly spoke after a very puzzling moment of silence: “Cynthia, my child, turn around!” When she turned around, her mouth dropped open. Her eyes opened wide, and her hands held both sides of her head. She screamed with joy! (If she was in her old physical body, the massive blast of unspeakable joy from what she saw would have overloaded her body’s capacity, which would have sent her to her grave. It would have been too much on the human body.) As she stood there frozen with the joy of what she saw (the wonders and beauty of it all), God said to her, “The reason why I did not completely answer that prayer was because I wanted you to have all of what you are now looking at. If I had answered it, you would have lost a lot of what you see now. Cynthia, all of it is yours forever! Well done, my good and faithful child. This gift to you is from Me with love, and it is yours for all eternity. Thank you so much for the work you did for Me during your lifetime on earth. Now, go and enjoy the fruits of your labor.”

She quickly walked away from God’s presence, a walking that turned into running, slightly bent forward, with her hands still “glued” to both sides of her head and with a facial expression of unspeakable joy, running, jumping, screaming, and crying as she went. She shouted these words as she went: Oh! Thank you, Father! Thank you so much. I love you so much! I thank you my God, and my LORD! Her rewards were enormous! They were indescribably magnificent and overwhelmingly stunning.

Some of her close friends and family members were so happy for her, even though they had lost greatly due to greedy passions during their Christian journey on earth. Cynthia was so greatly rewarded that she shined “as the stars” in heaven, forever. (Daniel 12:3)

In this story, change Cynthia's name to yours. Be patient, because God may be doing the same thing for you.

What did Jesus mean by saying, "I am in the Father, and the Father in me" after saying, "I and my Father are one" (not "one-person," but "one")? Obviously, the Son and the Father are two separate persons and therefore "one-person" could not have been meant here. This is because humanly speaking, it would make no sense.

He was heavily disfigured to the point where His disciples did not even recognize Him. The PHYSICS of Jesus' suffering for you during the scourging

Jesus could not have died of injuries inflicted by man because of what He said in John 10:17-18. It was only when He commanded His own death was when He died.

God is Sovereign and All-Powerful! He doesn't need to come HIMSELF to the earth to resolve anything; just simply command it, to destroy or remove it from His creation.

So then, why did God choose Himself to come to the earth as a human to resolve our sin problem?

Logic says: If we do not have an ending, we must never have a beginning?

God is Spirit! (John 4:24) He then took a piece of Himself that never had a beginning, neither an ending (can never cease to exist) and breathed it into man (Is. 42:5); man, then became a living soul (God does not breathe oxygen). Thus, we have a piece of Him (a spirit) inside of us that can never end and as a result, MUST spend eternity somewhere.

There are four reasons listed, why God came to Himself (He did not send someone else) to our physical world (the world He created) as a human to resolve our sin problem.

Should the One who created evil (Isaiah 45:7) be the ONLY One who could bear and pay the evil debt? Should the One who established the rules, be the ONLY One who could allow all rule-breakers to go free? If He did both, but didn't have to, then His love for us must be intense.

"What think ye of Christ? Whose son is he? They say unto him, The son of David. He saith unto them, How then doth David in spirit call him Lord, saying, The LORD said unto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, till I make thine enemies thy footstool? If David then call him Lord, how is he his son? (Matthew 22:41-46)

...if each of the members of GOD think alike, know all things alike, know each others thoughts alike, united alike in purpose, wishes, goals, etc. then anyone of them can speak for the others, as a single person for Himself, using I, I AM, Me, Myself, etc."

There are many verses in scripture that prove Jesus was and is God based on what He said, others said and the works and miracles He did.

Why then did Jesus not clearly, plainly and publicly say He was GOD?

If He had convincingly did, along with proof, then the people's perception, expectation, response and demand of Him would have been different. He then would NOT have been crucified and we all would still be in our sins and died as a result.

There are five reasons why Jesus did not clearly, plainly and publicly claim from His own mouth to be God.

"But of that day and that hour knoweth no man, no, not the angels which are in heaven, neither the Son, but the Father." "And Jesus increased in wisdom and stature, and in favor with God and man." "O my Father, if it be possible, let this cup pass from me" (Mark 13:32; Luke 2:52; Matthew 26:39)

And I will also take of them for priests and for Levites, saith the LORD. For as the new heavens and the new earth, which I will make, shall remain before me, saith the LORD, so shall your seed and your name remain. And it shall come to pass, that from one new moon to another, and from one Sabbath to another, shall all flesh come to worship before me, saith the LORD. "Faith cometh by hearing and hearing by the word of God" (Rom. 10:17) Faith can ONLY come this way. If Genesis was vitamin A, Exodus vitamin B, Leviticus vitamin C, Numbers vitamin D, psalm from John, carbonates from Matthew, Mark and Luke, etc.; and so on so to speak, sixty-six complete spiritual nutrients from the Lord. This brings about a healthy spiritual body. Jesus said, "Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God." What happens in the physical world also...
